- 1947 — Vice Secretary of the Section of Dramatic Art and Cinema of the Cuban-Soviet Institute of Cultural Relations.
- 1948 — Senator from Camaguey (Autentico-Republican Alliance).

REMARKS:

The man who is popularly known as "Tony" was one of the organizers of the famous University Students' Directorate in 1929. Always persistent in the struggle against Machado, Varona was imprisoned on numerous occasions. After the fall of Machado he collaborated with Grau, Prio and others in organizing the Autentico Party. In 1935 he became Chief of Organization for the Autenticos, and wielded tremendous power in the Camaguey Autentico political machine, known as the TOGA, which has been reported involved in kidnapping, graft, and related practices.

Varona was a strong supporter of President Grau during the latter's administration and was considered one of Prio's closest friends.

Inbued with the same revolutionary spirit as his anti-Machado colleagues, Varona, as early as 1921 had formed the Asociacion de Estudiantes del Instituto de Camaguey and in 1930 he was a member of the Directorio Estudiantil Universitario. In the summer of 1947 Varona actively participated in the abortive attempt against the Dominican Republic.

Although Varona does not have a good reputation, he is clever, and upon assuming the post of Prime Minister, it was expected that he would help restore parliamentary government in Cuba.

~~SECRET~~
- 2 -VARONA Loreda, Manuel A. (Continue:)Remarks:

On the question of Cuban economy, Varona favors a diversification in Cuban industry. He stated that it would seem advantageous to the United States to keep at present minimum levels the threat of Communist influence in the Western Hemisphere by such measures as a more liberal, assured quota for Cuban sugar in the United States.

Varona's former wife is the private secretary to President Prío. It is reported that he is somewhat handicapped by his present wife, Melina Enis Sanchez who is of questionable background. 1/

In September 1947, he was one of the senators urging the motion, which was later passed, to vote for the diplomatic isolation of the Franco Government and for the recognition of the Republican Government in exile. 2/

During the eight days in August 1950 that Varona was acting Minister of Labor he accomplished several startling and important acts. He signed decrees authorizing the intervention of the Communist news organs Hoy and America Deportiva.

He stated publicly that the Government contemplated action which would remove all Communists from labor organizations.

Soon after he was named Minister of the Interior in September 1950, it was rumored that de Varona would stay on permanently as Minister of the Interior and be replaced as Prime Minister. On the other hand there was speculation that de Varona would replace Miguel Suarez Fernandez as President of the Senate, possibly leaving the Cabinet to do so. 3/ This speculation became a reality when de Varona left the office of Prime Minister to accept the Presidency of the Cuban Senate on 6 October 1950. 4/

No photograph is available in Graphics Register, CCD. Procurement action will be initiated upon request.
