4 APR 1967

TO: Director
 Federal Bureau of Investigation
 Attention: Mr. S. J. Papich

FROM: Deputy Director for Plans

SUBJECT: O Information on Shirley Graham DuBois and her son David

REFERENCE: CSCI 316/01857-66

1. The following information was acquired by SUGAR who spoke with David DuBois (David McCanns).

2. David DuBois (born David Graham McCanns) has been living in Cairo, Egypt for a number of years and presently works for the English-language service of "Radio Cairo". Despite a natural leftist bias, he does not seem to be a political activist.

3. DuBois said that his mother, Shirley Graham DuBois, also resides in Cairo, at a temporary address which he did not specify. She plans to visit East Germany in the near future and hopes to go to Communist China sometime soon. She is very much concerned about his father's (the late William Edward Burghardt DuBois) library in Ghana which is legally her property. While Dr. Alphonse Bunton remained in Ghana and until he was expelled, Mrs. DuBois was not concerned about the library; however, she has now asked an American lawyer (not identified) to inquire into the courses of action she might take to recover the library. According to David DuBois, all of the Encyclopedia Africana files are still in Ghana. He and his mother believe that the United States Government or American private foundations might take over the encyclopedia project. He stated that if the publication is completed, it would have a powerful influence in African education for many generations.
