| TYPIC Source: AMRAZZ-1. Forwarded herewith are copies of two documents concerning the aid which the Cuban Medical Association gave to the Alliance. Gutierrez had been dickering for the $10,000 which the Association allegedly divided three ways -- $3,000 to the Alliance and equal amounts to JURE and the DRE. Gutierrez was said to have protested the split since he considered that JURE and the DRE were receiving ODYOKE subsidies while he was going it "alone." But the protests were in vain. AMRAZZ-1 presumes that the Association is more interested in spreading its aid in order to be "backing" more groups and thus be "covered" for the future than to be equitable. RID: Please index. Group 1: Excluded from Automatic Downgrading and Declassification |   |   |           |                        |

SOURCE

A Cuban exile who is an official of the Movimiento Revolucionario del Pueblo (MRP, Revolutionary Movement of the People). For the past several months he has reported accurately on the activities of his organization and its affiliates and on exile political developments in general.

1. The MRP-Alpha-66-SFNE Alliance, which is formed by the Movimiento Revolucionario del Pueblo (MRP, Revolutionary Movement of the People), Alpha-66, and the Segundo Frente Nacional del Escambray (SFNE, Second National Front of the Escambray), has received $3,000 from the Colegio Medico Cubano Libre (CMCL, Cuban Medical Association in Exile).<sup>1</sup> The money was turned over by Dr. Enrique Huertas, president of the Association, who insisted that the materials which would be purchased with the money be photographed. In order to impress Huertas and his colleagues, Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, military leader of the Alliance, told them that he would buy a midget submarine. The Alliance, in reality, already had the submarine and planned to use the funds to buy communications equipment. The submarine was duly photographed, but Gutierrez saw to it that the camera was defective. When the pictures failed to develop, Gutierrez told Huertas that he regretted not being able to photograph the submarine again because it was away on a mission.
2. Mario Lazo, former prominent lawyer in Habana who now resides in Connecticut, has contributed $1,000 to the Alliance.
3. The Alliance and the Junta Revolucionaria Cubana (JURE, Cuban Revolutionary Junta) are to begin broadcasts in Spanish to Cuba on Station WTKZ in Miami. The broadcasts will be held once a week from midnight to 12:30 a.m. at a cost of $500 a month.

4. Arnaldo Schwerert, MRP coordinator in Caracas, Venezuela, arrived in Miami on 19 April to iron out certain difficulties which had arisen within the Alliance. The MRP has misgivings about Gutierrez' military plans and does not plan to participate in them until some action is generated within Cuba. During a 20 April meeting with Gutierrez at his home the following agreements were reached:
  - a. The Alliance will be maintained and a basic agreement on the Alliance will be drafted.
  - b. Noel Salas was appointed military representative of the MRP in Miami and will deal directly with Gutierrez.
  - c. Joaquin Godoy Solis will be the alter ego of Schwerert in Miami and will be authorized to act on all matters for the MRP. Gutierrez' deputy will be Aurelio Nazario Sargent.
5. Gutierrez said that he has been ready to move into the military phase of operations for almost two months and that only organizational and personnel matters have been holding him up, such as the replacement of Araando Fleites Diaz by Nazario.
6. Schwerert and Gutierrez parted on good terms. Schwerert pointed out that distance often engenders uncertainty and that two members of the MRP executive committee in Caracas, Angel del Cerro and Jose Garbeito, were most concerned about the activities of the Alliance in Miami. Schwerert said that certain members of the MRP in Caracas had suggested that Antonio Fernandez Nuevo be included on the MRP executive committee. Gutierrez suggested that he did not trust Fernandez.
1. Source Comment: The Association is believed to have allocated $3,000 each to JURE and to the Directorio Revolucionario Estudiantil (DRE, Students' Revolutionary Directorate).
