Dear Max:

I enjoyed seeing you in October and am anxiously awaiting your book. I enjoy your articles very much and know that your publication will be excellent. The Cold War's influence on America was enormous. As you quite correctly point out, the influence arguably was even greater than previously thought.

I hope that the Board's decisions have resulted in disclosures that are helpful to your research. We are doing our best to review the records as quickly as possible. Thanks for your comments and I look forward to the book.

Sincerely,

John R. Tunheim
