1. During the last year, JMPALM has become deeply involved in Haitian exile activities and has developed a number of sources regularly reporting on this target. In many instances JMPALM assets are reporting on each other, a healthy process in terms of confirming reports and evaluating the accuracy and reliability of JMPALM agent assets.

2. JMPALM reporting on the Haitian scene has been voluminous. The purpose of this dispatch is not to review the quantity of reports submitted or operational cables sent during the year, nor to appraise the value of JMPALM in terms of monitoring exile activities; it is being forwarded to Headquarters in order to review past and present operations of JMPALM against Haiti and will review a number of factors affecting Haitian exiles in Miami and their efforts to obtain support from Cuban exile groups in Miami and New York.

BACKGROUND

3. JMPALM operations at the WAVE Station began approximately one year ago with the recruitment of several persons who appeared to be in positions to provide operational and intelligence information concerning Haitian exile politics and the Haitian political situation; others did not have immediate access but appeared to have an entrée into the Haitian exile field and offered sufficient potential to permit the JMPALM Case Officer (Robert S. HUNKELER) to conclude that they could be expected to move into areas of significant importance at a later date.

4. In August 1963 the JMPALM Case Officer received information that Clement BENOIT, one-time Consul General to the Bahama Islands, was in Nassau and preparing an exile invasion force to topple DUVALIER. Accordingly, the JMPALM Case Officer flew to the Bahama Islands on several occasions and conducted an investigation of the BENOIT movement and interviewed numerous persons whom BENOIT claimed as his followers. Complete details of HUNIKER's investigations were reported to Headquarters which permitted the conclusion that BENOIT was an optimistic dreamer who had little more in terms of assets than the ability to recruit raw man power--Haitian cane cutters and rural workers illegally scattered throughout the Bahama Islands. (BENOIT subsequently was ousted from the Bahama Islands and resided in Miami for approximately six months until June 1964 when he moved to the American Virgin Island of St. Croix where he planned to teach French.)

Haitian businessman in Miami, withdrew support from ⁰²EVLUCID-1, thus bringing discouragement to this energetic, forceful exile leader. ⁰²During the third week of July ⁰²EVLUCID-1, ⁰²UOAMBER-0, ⁰²UOAMBER-3, and Identity (close and respected friend of ⁰²EVLUCID-1) met with Elicio GOMEZ. At this meeting GOMEZ, who acknowledged his failure to provide financial support for ⁰²EVLUCID-1, promised to go a step further; ⁰²GOMEZ agreed to provide funds, equipment and man power to ⁰²EVLUCID-1 in order to obtain anti-Castro operations bases in Haiti following the hoped-for downfall of DUVALIER. What ⁰²EVLUCID-1 did not know was that the BABUN group planned to obtain funds from ⁰²Isolando MASFERRER Rojas, a well-known Cuban gunrunner who had been involved in a host of rackets, and who would probably demand a license for gambling and contraband activities in exchange for his support of ⁰²EVLUCID-1. *201-42669 CIT. 11. At a meeting between ⁰²EVLUCID-1, ⁰²UOAMBER-0 and ⁰²GOMEZ during the week-end of 1 August, GOMEZ revealed that he would be dealing with the MASFERRER group in connection with this support. ⁰²EVLUCID-1's immediate reaction, after learning that a principal contributor to the ⁰²EVLUCID-1 cause was to be MASFERRER, was to break off relations with the BABUN group. According to ⁰²UOAMBER-0, however, ⁰²EVLUCID-1 did not break with the BABUN pledge because of the recommendations made by Identity, a strange position to take if Identity is a Headquarters asset. According to ⁰²UOAMBER-0 ⁰²EVLUCID-1 subsequently decided to break relations with the BABUN group but simply had not advised GOMEZ of this decision.

12. At this writing, GOMEZ is expecting to obtain funds from MASFERRER and the son of O.G. DRANT, (Haitian textile manufacturer whose son is reportedly in New York.) GOMEZ plans to visit both MASFERRER and DRANT during the second week of August, after which he plans to visit Jamaica, Haiti and the Dominican Republic where he hopes to obtain authority from the Dominican hierarchy to permit the BABUN group to transport Haitian forces from Dominican territory to Haiti.

LOUIS DEJOIE

CIT. HAITI CHAIT. OCC. TEXTILE MFG. Aubry's son is in New York, and is reportedly active in supporting a Haitian exile group.

13. As reported above, ⁰²DEJOIE arrived in Miami in early July 1964 and met with ⁰²EVLUCID-1 on several occasions with the result that they, ⁰²(⁰²EVLUCID-1 and ⁰²DEJOIE) made an agreement of mutual support against DUVALIER. ⁰²DEJOIE also met with ⁰²UOAMBER-3, a Miami representative of Dominican Presidential contender Joaquin BALAGUER, and requested support from BALAGUER in terms of funds and man power for use by ⁰²DEJOIE against the Haitian dictator. ⁰²DEJOIE subsequently visited New York and, after two meetings with BALAGUER, returned to Miami and reported to ⁰²UOAMBER-3 and ⁰²EVLUCID-1 (who told ⁰²UOAMBER-3) that he (⁰²DEJOIE) had not been successful in obtaining ⁰²BALAGUER's support. He then departed for Santo Domingo where he hoped to activate both ⁰²EVLUCID-1 and ⁰²DEJOIE forces in the DUVALIER struggle.

PRESENT SITUATION AND FUTURE PLANS

14. The principal figure in the milieu of Haitian exile activities in Miami is still ⁰²EVLUCID-1 who continues to maintain telephone contact with ⁰²Gerald ⁰²LARGE and other members of the ⁰²EVLUCID-1 group in New York. According to a report submitted by ⁰²UOAMBER-0 in late July 1964, ⁰²EVLUCID-1, through ⁰²LARGE, maintains contact with Father Jean-Baptiste GEORGES, advisor to exile leader. During the three week of July 1964, UOAMBER-0, UOAMBER-3, and Identity (Colon and requested friend of EVLUCID-1) met with Eusebio GOMEZ. At this meeting GOMEZ, who acknowledged his failure to provide financial support for EVLUCID-1, promised to go a step further; GOMEZ agreed to provide funds, equipment and man power to EVLUCID-1 in order to obtain anti-Castro operations, bases in Haiti following the hoped-for downfall of DUVALIER. What EVLUCID-1 did not know is that the BABUN group planned to obtain funds from Orlando MASFERRER Rojas, a well-known Cuban gunrunner who had been involved in a host of racketeering, and who would probably demand a licence for gambling and contraband activities in exchange for his support of EVLUCID-1. *201-42669 CIT. 11. At a meeting between EVLUCID-1, UOAMBER-3 and GOMEZ during the week-end of 1 August, GOMEZ revealed that he would be dealing with the MASFERRER group in connection with this support. EVLUCID-1's immediate reaction, after learning that a principal contributor to the EVLUCID-1 cause was to be MASFERRER, was to break off relations with the BABUN group. According to UOAMBER-0, however, EVLUCID-1 did not break with the BABUN pledge because of the recommendations made by Identity, a strange position to take if Identity is a Headquarters asset. According to UOAMBER-6, EVLUCID-1 subsequently decided to break relations with the BABUN group but simply had not advised GOMEZ of this decision.

12. At this writing, GOMEZ is expecting to obtain funds from MASFERRER and the son of O.G. DRANT, (Haitian textile manufacturer whose son is reportedly in New York.) LOUIS DEJOIE

13. As reported above, DEJOIE arrived in Miami in early July 1964 and met with EVLUCID-1 on several occasions with the result that they (EVLUCID-1 and DEJOIE) made an agreement of mutual support against DUVALIER. DEJOIE also met with UOAMBER-3, a Miami representative of Dominican Presidential contender Joaquin BALAGUER, and requested support from BALAGUER in terms of funds and man power for use by DEJOIE against the Haitian dictator. DEJOIE subsequently visited New York and, after two meetings with BALAGUER, returned to Miami and reported to UOAMBER-3 and EVLUCID-1 (who told UOAMBER-0) that he (DEJOIE) had not been successful in obtaining BALAGUER's support. He then departed for Santo Domingo where he hoped to activate both EVLUCID-1 and DEJOIE forces in the DUVALIER struggle.

PRESENT SITUATION AND FUTURE PLANS

14. The principal figure in the milieu of Haitian exile activities in Miami is still EVLUCID-1 who continues to maintain telephone contact with Gerald LARGE and other members of the EVLUCID-1 group in New York. According to a report submitted by UOAMBER-6 in late July 1964, EVLUCID-1, through LARGE, maintains contact with Father Jean Baptiste GEORGES, advisor to FARH, who, according to UOAMBER-6, has made a pact with Father Gerard BISSAINTHE of the Haitian exile group, "Haitian Pioneers". UOAMBER-6 reported on 2 August that he has been approached by a leader of the Cuban Rebel Army who is attempting to work out a plan of support to EVLUCID-1. 201-355250

15. Many of the better known Haitian exile leaders do not appear to be involved in Haitian exile activities in Miami. According to UOAMBER-8, however, the Cuban exile group of GOMEZ and BABUN anticipates giving support to EVLUCID-1 although they have been invited to support Father GEORGE and the PRIGAUD Brothers, a move which presumably might attract other Haitian exile leaders to the Miami area.

16. Because the desire by Haitian exiles to obtain support for invasion activities to Haiti is so strong, and because some Cuban exile groups are unscrupulous and are financially prepared to support a cause which could later be used for contraband gambling activities in Haiti, JMPALM considers the possibility of concrete support by such undesirable groups as Rolando MASFERRER Rojas to be counter to our interests. JMPALM has not proposed financial assistance to any anti-DUVALIER group, nor are we recommending a course of action which would bring about a toppling of DUVALIER without sufficient preparation to control the aftermath and chaos which would probably follow a Haitian insurrection.

17. JMPALM requests that Headquarters advise the WAVE Station of information obtained through Headquarters sources relating to exile activities in this area. In this connection, it should be mentioned that several persons close to EVLUCID-1, including Identity, are probably in touch with the Haitian desk. If this is the case, then JMPALM believes that KUBARK interest would best be served by keeping the WAVE Station informed of the Identities of Headquarters assets as well as information furnished by them concerning EVLUCID-1 and other exile personalities affecting our operations at JMWAVE. Operational information of this nature would, in the opinion of the JMPALM Case Officer, serve as a cross check on the effectiveness of JMPALM agents and in many areas avoid duplication of effort, and add to the total security of the operation.
