Subject: Janet Veazey

I spoke with Veazey. She would like to talk to her mother before agreeing to donate the film, although he has no problem with donating it. Veazey emphasized that she did not think her mother would have a problem with it either. She is just giving her mother the courtesy of weighing in before the donation is made. Veazey initially thought that we would only want to view the film to determine if there was anything of interest. She now understands that we seek originals for the Collection. My view is that even if there was a problem with her mother and she did not want to donate the original, we would get, at a minimum, a copy of the film. Veazey said that neither her or her mother have any interest in making money. In fact, her Veazey's mother had given her possession of the film. This would appear to mean that she did not have a lot of interest in it herself. Veazey will call me on Monday, May 20th after her mother returns from a trip and they have had an opportunity to discuss the matter.
