Subject: FYI: Steve Tilley/McClellan Committee records
FYI Only. The records of the Senate Select Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor and Management Field -- otherwise known as the McClellan Rackets Committee -- are, apparently, under the current control of the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, Committee on Governmental Affairs (the Senate-side authorizing Committee for our agency and statute). Steve has been talking to a Sue Routhier at the Subcommittee, who faxed over samples (attached) of the McClellan Committee's file cards (which obviously have been carried over into the '60s and '70s -- note the dates on the cards). Given that the FBI has released as assassination records parts of its files on various organized crime figures, Steve is of a mind that the McClellan Committee stuff may be assassination records, as well. As investigative files, this stuff is all presently closed, and the volume of records is incredible. P.S. Having forwarded well over my quota this week, I shall try and give you a respite from unsolicited E-mails for a while (I know that's the real reason Jeremy is going to New Orleans...).
