Subject: St. Louis Trip: One More Name
Please add the following name and alias to your list of Military records to be searched:James Sutton (aka James E. Files)This individual now claims (on film) that he shot President Kennedy from behind the Grassy Knoll fence, using a special pistol with a scope that fired a very high velocity (3100 ft/sec) .22 caliber round with a mercury load, which was designed to fragment upon impact.During the interview, he said that before carrying out this job for the Mafia (Charles Nicolletti and Johnny Roselli), he was in the Army (airborne, I believe) and served in Cambodia from 1959-61. He said that his real name was James Sutton, and that he only adopted the name James E. Files later, after Army service.Sorry--no other information for you...no middle initial for James Sutton (try "E"), and no SSN.
