Subject: Koepke's requests

I have reviewed Koepke's requests that we search for certain records. We have received many allegations like those of Koepke that are based, ultimately, on someone having heard someone say something. I have no idea whether the allegations or reports are true or not. If it were 1964, it might be worth pursuing such leads. At this point, I perceive that there is little likelihood that efforts that we would devote to the matter would result in any information that would clarify our understanding of the assassination. Because I believe staff resources could better be used on matters that are more likely to result in making assassination records available to the public, I suggest that we not pursue the matter further.
