Subject: Friday

I am still not feeling very well and doubt that I will be in the office in the morning. Aside from my annoying constant coughing, I am sure the staff would rather I not pass my germs to them. I will call in the morning if I am not coming and I will check my voice mail and sign on to the computer a few times throughout the day to check on things that can't wait until Monday. I will change/confirm your travel to NY from home and work on hotel arrangements for Tom in DC from home also. If there is anything else that you can think of if I don't make it in, please call or e-mail me. Thanks.
