Subject: Re: Update on Lloyd Grove, Washington Post

Tom: Interesting. I've heard nothing of any board member keeping a journal. Are you inferring that Grove intends to write on Hersh and his book as being somehow implicated in this forgeries scam? Or that Hersh was used by Cusack? The former seems incredible to me, the latter even more so, as I think Hersh is light years smarter than Cusack... See you next week... --Bill

He told me that he had heard from a source (one that he would not identify, per his agreement with that person) who said that someone at the Board had compiled a written chronology of the Board's involvement with Hersh. Grove wanted to know if I could share it with him. I told him that I was unaware of any such written chronology. He is planning on writing his story on Hersh and the documents for next week. The focus now seems to be the use of Hersh and his book as an advertising tool to market the Cusack documents at a high price.>
