Subject: Disappointing News

I just received a telephone call from John Pereira, who said that he has decided to retire from CIA. Although he is not sure of the timing, it appears that it will become effective within the next two months. I told him I was very sorry to hear that he is leaving and that I would let you know. This comes at a time when CIA is reorganizing its areas that deal with declassification. One can, of course, speculate on the reasons for his departure. John assured me that the work on the JFK Act is a high priority for the agency and that he is sure that people will carry on and complete the work.
