

NR_key_name: 4E2E2556C0ED35F1862564170000DEC4

SendTo:

CopyTo:

DisplayBlindCopyTo:

BlindCopyTo: CN=Eileen Sullivan/O=ARRB

From: Robalini @ aol.com

DisplayFromDomain:

DisplayDate: 01/05/1997

DisplayDate_Time: 6:26:42 PM

ComposedDate:

ComposedDate_Time:

Subject: The Scoop On Tony Lake
NOTE: Either you requested to receive a subscription to this e-mail, or someone else recommended you to be placed on this list. If you are interested in a free subscription, please e-mail Robalini@aol.com with the subject: I NEED TO KONFORM. (Okay, you can use something else, but it's a cool catch phrase.) Please e-mail me back with subject: CANCEL KONFORMIST if you're not interested in receiving this. Thanks, Robert Sterling. The following is from Ralph McGehee of CIABASE. I highly recommend his site for info that is not overly speculative (as I naturally prefer it) nor the Wonder Bread version you get from the mainstream press. Date: 97-01-01 10:23:45 EST From: rmcgehee@igc.apc.org (Ralph McGehee) Bio on DCI Nominee Lake -- Dec 17, 1996 by rmcgehee in cdp:alt.pol.org.ci Below is some CIABASE information on DCI nominee Anthony Lake. Also given below is NAMEBASE information on Lake. Ralph McGehee CIABASE An op-ed by Frank Gaffney, Jr. "A matter of CIA survival?" discusses Lake's possible role in the Iran-Bosnia arms transfer and his policies to create "still further impediments to deployment of effective U.S. missile defenses." op-ed discusses Lake's past ties to the extreme left and his campaign against the U.S. intelligence community. After he left the NSC in 1970 over his opposition to the Vietnam war he became involved with the Institute for Policy Studies -- "the mother of all radical left-wing activist organizations." In 1974, he helped form the Center for National Security Studies, that played a leading role in the counterculture's bid to hamstring, disrupt and/or dismantle the covert activities of American intelligence. Washington Times 12/17/96 a17. Arming Bosnia jeopardizes Lake's chances to head CIA. Washington Times 12/16/96 a3. Anthony Lake, DCI nominee -- foreign service 62-70; special assistant to the national security adviser 69-70; project director, Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, 72-73; director international voluntary services, 74-76; director of policy planning, State Department, 77-81; professor of international relations, Amherst and Mount Holyoke colleges, 81-93; national security adviser, 93-95. Washington Post 12/6/96 a27. 92 Anthony Lake, national security adviser. professor of international relations at Mount Holyoke college. considered a non-ideological pragmatist who believes that the views of the career State Department experts have been ignored in recent years by presidents who push particular ideologies. Worked as a foreign service officer in Vietnam in the early 1960s. special assistant to Henry A. Kissinger in 69. resigned a year later to protest the invasion of Cambodia. director of the international voluntary services, a private version of the Peace Corps, from 1974 to 1976. in recent books and articles he has contended that the United States must learn how to deal with radical regimes in the third world. New York Times 12/23/92 a1,9. 92 Lake named to be head of NSC. In naming him Pres Clinton said he intends Lake to be not a rival but a partner with the foreign policy, defense and intelligence agencies. Lake, 53, spoke of the need

Body:

recstat:

DeliveryPriority: N

DeliveryReport: B

ReturnReceipt:

Categories: