

NR_key_name: 9B3B2E1315EC5C6B8625642E0060E6EF

SendTo:

CopyTo:

DisplayBlindCopyTo:

BlindCopyTo: CN=Eileen Sullivan/O=ARRB

From: Robalini @ aol.com

DisplayFromDomain:

DisplayDate: 01/29/1997

DisplayDate_Time: 11:08:40 AM

ComposedDate:

ComposedDate_Time:

Subject: The Konformist (The Hawk Initiative: The Hit on Rabin)
NOTE: Either you requested to receive a subscription to this e-mail, or someone else recommended you to be placed on this list. If you are interested in a free subscription, please e-mail Robalini@aol.com with the subject: I NEED TO KONFORM. (Okay, you can use something else, but it's a cool catch phrase.) Please e-mail me back with subject: CANCEL KONFORMIST if you're not interested in receiving this. Thanks, Robert Sterling.Subj: rabin murderDate: 97-01-24 12:17:20 ESTFrom: chamish@netmedia.net.il (Chamish Barry)>THE CONSPIRACY TO KILL YITZHAK RABIN? >>By: Barry Chamish* >>Just previous to the evening of November 4, 1995, Prime Minister>Yitzhak Rabin was a very worried man. His peace process with the PLO>was not going well with the Israeli public. The latest poll in the>daily newspaper Maariv showed that 78% of the public wanted the>process stopped until a national referendum was held to decide whether>to continue or not. Only 18% of Israelis trusted Rabin enough to have>him carry on his diplomacy without a public referendum. Rabin couldn't>step out in public without being heckled. His most humiliating moment>came in August when he was introduced at a soccer game and>40,000 fans jeered him in unison.>>But that evening would be different. A coalition of left wing>political parties and youth movements had organized a rally in support>of him and Rabin knew that, for a change, he would be surrounded by>thousands of well wishers.>>Which made his murder that evening doubly unexpected. It all seemed so>easy. At 9:15, Rabin ad-libbed a speech before 100,000 supporters>gathered at a square outside Tel Aviv's city hall. A half hour later,>he walked down the steps of the stage into the "sterile" area below>where his car awaited him. Here he would be safe from threat because>no one but approved security personnel were supposed to be there.>>But something was very wrong in the parking lot below. The area, far>from being sterile, was crawling with unauthorized personnel. If Rabin>had been alert he would have noticed that things were not looking very>right at all. First of all, he should have thought, where's the>ambulance? There was always an ambulance stationed near his car when>he made public appearances, yet this evening it was nowhere to be>seen. Then he should have asked, where are the policemen? Dozens of>policemen should have providing security but only a few were in sight.>The parking area was almost totally dark whereas it was standard>security procedure to illuminate his walking route. >>But Rabin seemed buoyed by the success of his speech and>uncharacteristically walked alone, unaccompanied by his wife, Leah,>toward his car. A few seconds before he reached his vehicle, a>security agent of the General Security Services (Shabak) who was >supposed to cover his rear stepped back, stopped and permitted an>assassin, Yigal Amir, to get three clear shots at Rabin's back.>>As soon as the bullets were fired, a Shabak agent yelled, "Srak.>Srak," or "they're blanks, they're blanks," while another agent

Body:

recstat:

DeliveryPriority: N

DeliveryReport: B

ReturnReceipt:

Categories: