Subject: Time-Hosty
Time reporter Lissa August informs me that Time editors decided against using the Hosty story because the notes were revealed in Hosty's book last year. Ms. August did not agree with their decision and is looking forward to release of the NSA documents. I explained to her that much of the information actually within documents would appear to be old news, but that the context of the documents and the reflection of the period are important news points. She had very perceptive off-the-record questions regarding the pending release. I will be checking with Tim to see the status of the NSA material.
