Thanks to all of you for your help during the two preceding busy days. Tracy has the information on where I can be reached. If you have an important message, please leave it on phone mail as I will call in for messages. I hope to have access to e-mail, but you should not rely on it for anything important. For incoming calls, please advise the caller that I am not in the office but that I will be calling in for messages. Cathy will be sending a FedEx package to me on Thursday for Saturday delivery. Please send me any time-sensitive letters or communications and I will get back in touch with you. Cheers.
