Subject: Looking for a Grinnellian at AARB

Hi, I've been interested in the assassination of President Kennedy for the past several years thanks in part to Oliver Stone. I'm one of those 40+ers that he was trying to wake up. I was in graduate school in Tallahassee when Garrison was doing his investigation but was totally unaware of it. Now I am. I'm writing to get in touch with the Grinnell graduate at the AARB who was written up in the Spring issue of "Grinnell Magazine". My daughter, Lisa, just graduated from there and my son, John, is a Sophomore. I was pleased to see the fine statement of purpose concerning the AARB from a Grinnell graduate. I've wondered what some to the Grinnell History Dept. had to say concerning those events. PS I've attached text copied from the newsgroup "alt.conspiracy.jfk.moderated" concerning purported assassination investigative files in the possession of the Dallas Sheriff's Office. To Rocky Clayton, President Dallas Sheriff's Union> I am at work and cannot go into everything I would like.... Just a little to wet your appetite. How about cutting straight to the chase? What do you know that's most relevant to the solution of this crime? Why have you not come forward until now? How are we to distinguish you from the parade of other confessors and witnesses whose stories have initially titillated the research community and were later found to have holes in them? Who can corroborate your story? If you can stand the heat, this group is the kitchen to be in. Subject: To Dallas Sheriff Path:

REPLY I am at work and cannot go into everything I would like, but will when time permits. Short version: I ran a shift in what we call "The Old Jail" here for over two years. It is directly across from the school book depository. It was right outside the window of my office. Jack Ruby's cell was also just outside my office door. It wasn't a cell really. We used it for what we called "the small holdover". You can put about twenty inmates in it while waiting to go to court, be taken back to their tank or whatever. This is where Ruby stayed. My impression is that he was allowed to basically set up light housekeeping during his stay in The Old Jail. I was told he had unlimited visitation privileges and that Sheriff Decker paid him an almost daily visit. I was
