

NR_key_name: 84597C5C01616E6B8525659F004FF16D
SendTo: ALL
CopyTo: DisplayBlindCopyTo: BlindCopyTo:
From: CN=Douglas Horne/O=ARRB
DisplayFromDomain:
DisplayDate: 02/02/1998
DisplayDate_Time: 9:39:16 AM
ComposedDate: 02/02/1998
ComposedDate_Time: 9:33:11 AM
Subject: Missing Clothing
On Friday afternoon, sometime after 4:00 P.M., my Air and Space Museum Solar System sweatshirt disappeared from the chair where it was lying back near the copy machine. It was not there at 4:45 when I went back to retrieve it and put it on. Three things are possible:-the benign explanation is that someone saw an article of misplaced clothing and put it away for safekeeping until the owner could be found. If this is the case, thank you, its mine, please return it.-the mischievous explanation is that someone is playing a joke. If that is the case, its time to end it.-the last alternative is virtually unthinkable, and I do not want to go there except as a last resort. Whomever may have this article of clothing, which cost $ 35.00 when new and is no longer available for purchase, please return it to my office soon; no questions will be asked. (I go home at 5:00.)
Body:
recstat: Record
DeliveryPriority: N
DeliveryReport: B
ReturnReceipt: Categories: