Subject: August hearing
I am curious about and August meeting, in 1996 or 1997 (I'm unsure). The topic was how much the board had done that point and how much more they had to accomplish. The focus was on, given the amount of materials that were left, what should the board consider important so that they could best spend their time. Jeremy Gunn started off. He was followed by Jim Lesar, John Newman, John Judge and (unfortunately) Harry Livingston. Could this be a meeting that wasn't transcribed? -Stuart Wexler
