Eileen, Sorry to bog you down with more E-mail, but I was wondering if you might be able to help me out with some info, non-work related. Basically, as you can read from the attached E-mails, Dana is moving in with me this weekend and is contemplating changing her permanent address to DC but wants to know what the tax rate, pros/cons, and process for doing it (where to go, what has to be done?) are. Any help would be greatly appreciated.Thanks,AndrewTo: Andrew Funk/ARRBcc: From: Tracy Shycoff/ARRBDate: 07/28/98 08:19:32 AMSubject: Re: miscI am clueless when it comes to DC! Eileen and Bob are probably your greatest resource on this since they both moved here from other states. Bob now lives in VA and just changed things last year so may have more insight. Let me know if they can help. If not, I'll see if payroll can be of any assistance but I doubt it.To: Tracy Shycoff/ARRBcc: From: Andrew Funk/ARRB Date: 07/28/98 08:17:32 AMSubject: miscTracy, I received my clearance paperwork yesterday, they were pretty quick, no surprises. Thanks for helping me with that. Also, do you know what the tax rate is here in DC, my girlfriend Dana is moving in with me this weekend and is contemplating changing her permanent residence here from Maryland. Unfortunately, since I still keep NJ as my permanent residence I don't have much info for her. Any help you might be able to give me regarding tax rate and also the process of where to go to change residence and what it entails would be greatly appreciated. I realize with the way things are right now that a response to my questions is understandably not your top priority.Thanks,Andrew
