Subject: Re: release of depositions query from Kate

Dear Eileen Hope you're feeling refreshed after your vacation! I've been away from the office myself for a week doing some computer courses. Now, when you say extremely expensive, how expensive are we talking about? Perhaps if I can work out a ballpark figure I can decide whether it's worth the cost and the time for you guys. Just for your info, last week one of our tabloids had an article on the autopsy surgeons. I was pleasantly surprised as that is probably the only reference to the assassination and the ARRB I have ever come across in Australian newspapers since the JFK Act came into being. Of course the article didn't say too much and there was no byline, but at least it was something. I was hoping the broadsheets would have picked up the story but I'm not sure if they did or not. They're too busy with the Lewinsky thing. Anyway, thanks for help, yet again. Actually, while I've got your attention, how and to whom will the Final Report be made available? Thanks Kate - Sydney. Sorry about that. I will be on vacation next week but when I return I will ask her about how/if we can send the depositions to you. I fear it will be extremely expensive, and you will have to cover that cost. I am not familiar with how to work out payment, etc. Thanks for your understanding! Eileen
