Subject: Chicago Manual of Style and the endnotes sections of the report

Laura asked me to send around some examples of how to properly cite certain things according to the Chicago Manual of Style.1. For hearings and testimony given at hearings (The page number is the number appearing at the end of the citation for all of the different cites below.): Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs, Assassination Materials Disclosure Act of 1992: Hearings on S.J. Res. 282, 102d Cong., 2d sess., 1992, 96. (Prepared Statement of Jack Valenti, Special Assistant to President John F. Kennedy from November 1963 to June 1966).2. For citations from magazine articles:Summers, Anthony and Robby Summers, "The Ghosts of November," Vanity Fair, December 1994, 88.3. For citing a book:Summers, Anthony. Conspiracy. New York: McGraw-Hill Book Company, 1989.4. Citations to bills and resolutions:Food and Security Act of 1985, 99th Cong., 1st sess., H.R. 2100.5. Reports of the Senate and the House (allusions to specific page numbers would be H. Rept. 625, 55-57.):House Judiciary Committee, Assassination Materials Disclosure Act of 1992, 102d Cong., 2d sess., 1992, H. Rept. 625.6. Reports of Government commissions:Securities and Exchange Commission, Annual Report of the Securities and Exchange Commission for hte Fiscal Year (Washington, D.C.: GPO, 1983), 42.7. Citing Executive Orders:If anyone knows, please let me know because I have to cite a couple and I can not tell how to do so from the books examples.
