The letter "b" should be capitalized in the word "board" you are using the word as an abbreviation for "Assassination Records Review Board." (For those of you who are working on chapters that Elliott edited, you will notice that he does not capitalize the term. He is probably grammatically correct right, but I still think we should capitalize it.)Same thing for the word "president." When you are referring to the President of the United States, capitalize the P.
