As you know, final compliance statements are due July 1. I do not know if you have an understanding with NSA that their Final Statement need not yet be submitted since the initial statement has not yet been reviewed with them, as I understand it. Therefore, to avoid any miscommunication or any implication that we have blessed NSA's initial statement , I suggest we send a letter before July 1, as follows:"This is to confirm that the National Security Agency need not submit its Final Statement of Compliance by July 1, which was the initial target date. See (cite Review Board's Compliance Letter). As you know, we have been working with NSA on several issues and have not yet reviewed with NSA its initial Statement of Compliance. Therefore, filing of the Final Statement by July 1 would be premature."Accordingly, we will contact you shortly to review with you the initial Statement of Compliance and thereafter we will set a new date for the submission of a Final Statement of Compliance."Let me know if I should send this or soem other letter out under your signature.
