Yes.

Dennis and I interviewed Daniel Wedemeyer this morning at 10:00 a.m. He has just finished his first year at the Washington College of Law at AU. His resume is attached. Daniel was a history major at UCLA and expressed an interest in learning more about the assassination and the intelligence community in the 1960s. He seemed eager to combine his undergraduate work in history with his legal education to date.

Daniel is available to start at ARRB immediately. He is available 20 hours a week. Daniel has accepted another part-time internship with a Vietnam Veterans organization. He will be working in his other internship for 20 hours a week, although he has not yet finalized his weekly schedule at this point. Daniel asked us to contact him on Monday, if possible, to let him know whether we have made a decision. Apparently, he has an offer for another internship and he has to give them an answer by Tuesday.
