From: Michelle Combs
Associate Director for Research and Review

Subject: CIA-12 JMWAVE and David Sanchez Morales

In response to the Review Board's Request for Additional Records and Information CIA-12, the CIA provided files on David Morales, Theodore Shackley, and Doug Gupton (A) in his true name, William M. Kent. The Office of Security and Office of Personnel files for David Sanchez Morales were located in the CIA sequestered collection and were processed as a part of that collection. The Office of Personnel, Office of Security, Retirement, and Payroll files for Theodore Shackley were examined by the Review Board staff. Only a small number of documents from his time at JMWAVE were designated as assassination records. The Office of Personnel file for William M. Kent was located in the CIA sequestered collection. Kent's Office of Security file was examined by the Review Board staff and a small number of documents were designated as assassination records. An Office of Security file was located for an individual named Ron Cross and examined by the Review Board staff.

The staff determined that individual named in the file was not the Ron Cross associated with JMWAVE. No other files were provided. CIA reported that it could not locate any additional files on Ron Cross, nor any information on the name Ron Cross being registered as an official alias or pseudonym. Finally, CIA reported that no files could be located on Bart Henry and there was no information on Bart Henry being registered as an official alias or pseudonym.
