Dear Mr. Nix:

It was a pleasure to speak with you by telephone about your camera. The importance of your late father's camera to historic record of President Kennedy's assassination cannot be overstated. The JFK Records Collection at the National Archives has the best preservation facilities in the world and would be able to preserve the camera under state-of-the-art conditions. I know the proper preservation of the camera is of prime interest to you and your family. On behalf of the Review Board, I want you to know the National Archives would be the best place to ensure the camera's proper care. In addition, the Archives would serve as a central location for the public to learn of the very important film your father took.

The National Archives would be happy to provide a Deed Of Gift, which you may wish to keep as a memento of your participation in this truly historic quest for assassination- related records.

I just sent the information materials that we spoke about to your daughter. I hope you will be able to review those materials with her. Thank you again for your time, interest, and cooperation. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me at ext. 258. I look forward to speaking with you again in the near future.

Sincerely,

David R. Montague
