Dear Mr. Ruffa:

It was a pleasure to speak with you about the aerial photograph of Dealey Plaza in your possession which you believe to be part of Jim Garrison's investigation into President Kennedy's assassination.

I hope that you will consider donating this photograph (with any accompanying documentation) to the JFK Collection at the National Archives. Your donation would serve to complete the historic record of the President's assassination and its aftermath. As we discussed, the John F. Kennedy Records Collection housed at the National Archives contains the largest and best cared-for collection of assassination-related records. The Collection is open to the public at no cost. The National Archives would provide a Deed of Gift signed by the Archivist of the United States to commemorate your donation.

I've enclosed a brochure about the Review Board, a copy of our legislation, and a pamphlet published by the National Archives that describes the JFK Records Collection. On behalf of the Review Board, I appreciate your interest in assisting our efforts to add records to the JFK Collection and look forward to speaking with you again in the near future.

Sincerely,

David R. Montague
