Dick Russell; Author of the 1992 book The Man Who Knew Too Much. The book focuses on an alleged intelligence agent named Richard Case Nagell and his alleged knowledge of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Richard Trask; Author of Pictures of the Pain: Photography and the Assassination of President Kennedy, published in 1994.

In addition to conducting a public meeting in Boston, the Review Board will visit The John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library on Thursday, March 23rd, to meet privately with Library representatives. Discussions will focus on what records at the Library should be included in the collection of assassination records. The Board will arrive at the Library at 10:00 a.m. The Library staff has requested that there be no media coverage of the Board's visit.

The Assassination Records Review Board was established by The President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992, which was signed into law by President George Bush. The five members of the Board were appointed by President Clinton, confirmed by the U.S. Senate, and sworn in on April 11, 1994

The law gives the Review Board the mandate and the authority to identify, secure, and make available all records related to the assassination of President Kennedy. It is the responsibility of the Board to determine which records are to be made public immediately and which ones will have postponed release dates.

The Review Board consists of the following members:

John R. Tunheim, Chair; Minnesota Chief Deputy Attorney General.

Dr. Henry F. Graff; Professor Emeritus of History at Columbia University.

Dr. Kermit L. Hall; Dean, College of Humanities, and Professor of History at The Ohio State University.

Dr. William L. Joyce; Associate University Librarian for Rare Books and Special Collections at Princeton University.

Dr. Anna K. Nelson; Adjunct Professor of History at American University.

The Review Board has until October 1, 1996 to fulfill its mandate, plus an additional year at the Board's discretion to complete its responsibilities.
