

June 13, 1996

Dear Scott:

Congratulations on becoming President of NAAG. It is an honor which you richly deserve. I know that you will lead the organization to new levels of achievement.

As I am sure you can imagine, I was particularly pleased that Older Americans will be a priority for you during your presidency. Although I have not talked to Angie (aka "Mr. Smith") in quite a while, I know he's out there somewhere claiming credit for your rise to the presidency of NAAG.

This latest honor that you have earned is yet another inspiration and source of pride that you have provided to so many of us, in a professional and personal sense. Please know that even those of us who are not currently working with you are genuinely excited and interested in your latest success. I know it will not be the last.

Again, please accept my sincere congratulations. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely,