

“My family and I would like to contribute all of my father’s papers that relate to his Warren Commission service to the American people, to be included in the National Archives.”--James Rankin, September 17, 1996