Re - electronic surveillance of Rolando Masferrer Cesar Diosdado of Customs said he & other agents employed transmitter & receiver to monitor a meeting in Nov. 1966 at which Masferrer was present. One of Diosdado's informants carried transmitter into meeting & listening posts were located in automobiles nearby. Diosdado had received authority to use this equipment from Gerald Bateman who had prior permission from Customs in D.C. & U.S. Attorney's Office.

Subject: Estimate of Damage Which Could Accrue to CIA Miami Through Prosecution of the Rolando Masferrer Haitian Invasion Group.

Recent news stories about CIA connection with Pan American Foundation & University of Miami & recruitment of Cuban pilots in the Congo could easily trigger publicity with inevitable focus on the South Campus of Miami & on the Miami Station [cover firm

The long-standing animosity of certain opile organizations against the CIA could tempt ~~the~~ accused to attack CIA to gain acquittal, blacken the CIA, & exert pressure on U.S. for policy change.

This attitude could also be applied to Orlando Bosch trial according to [cover]

From: Lawrence R. Houston - Gen. Counsel, CIA

Of all the persons involved in the Miami bombing trial, charged with violation of Arms control act & Neutrality Act, only Orlando - Bosch was of operational interest to the Agency. None has ever been the subject of electronic surveillance
