Interview with Walter P. Haltigan 3111157

Date: June 13, 1978

Interviewed by: Mickey Goldenwith and Betty Wolf

REPRODUCTION PROHIBITED

A copy of the [redacted] letter was given to Mr. Haltigan who read it and indicated that he understood its contents. Mr. Haltigan was given a copy of LTA # 435-173-A which consists of a cover letter dated 11/12/63 from [redacted] to the Chiefs of SR and WE and to the Chief of Station in [redacted] forwarding a memo dated 11/25/63 which was written by [redacted] to Walter P. Haltigan concerning [redacted] prior interest in the Harvey Oswald. This document served as the basis for our questioning.

Haltigan stated that in 1963 he served as Chief of the Soviet Section of the [redacted] station under diplomatic cover. He explained that [redacted] was also an officer in the [redacted] station but he served under [redacted] and worked [redacted] using cut-outs to make contact with others in the [redacted] station. Due to the nature of this arrangement, Lasasin frequently wrote informal memos such as the one in #435-173-A which were then passed along to the station. These memos would then be forwarded to Headquarters, generally by Haltigan. In this particular instance, [redacted] who served under Haltigan, forwarded the letter to Headquarters. [redacted] Haltigan was in the hospital at the time.

REPRODUCTION PROHIBITED

Haltigan explained the following portions of [redacted] memo:

- "REDWOOD" represents the Soviet Division.
- The "6 Branch" was the Operational Support and Research Branch for the Soviet Division. Its main function was the collection of information. [redacted] was chief of the 6 Branch until his transfer to [redacted]

- KUTUMP was the cryptonym for the Office of Operations which is currently known as the DEO. If the CIA wanted to contact a [redacted], it would have made contact through this office.

However, Hattigan stated that it probably was not standard operating procedure to interview [redacted] due to a variety of factors such as a lack of proper follow-up measures or the fact that these cases would have fallen into the jurisdiction of the FBI.

- ODAEID was the cryptonym for the State Department. Hattigan explained that it was not unusual that [redacted] would have seen a State Department despatch on Oswald as it would have been routine to receive most of State Department memos.

[redacted] recollection of having discussed the Oswald case in Summer 1960 as stated in the memo, must have been a mistake. Instead, he probably ^{meant the summer} ~~should have~~ of 1962.

- BI refers to biographic information.

- KPOVER was a cryptonym for a cover which was probably a business firm. KUDDVE was the cryptonym for the DDP.

REPRODUCTION

Hattigan explained that in paragraph 3 [redacted] ^{did not mean} ~~referred~~ that he was phasing out of the DDP altogether. Instead, his reference to phasing out of the DDP referred only to his Headquarters assignment within DDP.

The NEOSCEAN/3 case was picked up in Europe for the Regal Travellers program in 1952 when she left in love with an activist guide whom she married. He came out of the USSR in the summer of 1962 and his wife was permitted to join him some months later. Haltigan did not believe this to be a case where the couple was eventually divorced as this memo infers. Haltigan stated that it was unusual for Marina Oswald to be allowed to leave the Soviet Union as not many Soviet wives were permitted to leave during that time period.

- Haltigan was perplexed as to the reference to the "Harvey story" in the last line of the memo. He first stated that it must have been a typographical error which should have been the "Oswald story" instead. When it was pointed out that the sentence contained two other references to Oswald which makes it unlikely that this was merely a typographical error, he expressed confusion with respect to the reference. He could think of no explanation for this, nor did he remember ever speaking to Casaccia about this point.

Haltigan recalled that he arrived in [redacted] for his assignment in June, 1962 and that [redacted] probably arrived there in September of the same year. Haltigan stated that he had never heard any rumors to the effect that Oswald had been used by the CIA at any time. He felt that because of his assignments within the Agency, he would have been in a position to know if Oswald had been used in any capacity. He mentioned that he had been in Japan from 1951-1955 and that [redacted] had been there from 1955 to 1958 or 1959.

REPRODUCTION

Haltigan advised that SR/9 was responsible for maintaining its own records which they kept in the same manner as DAD files. If someone needed to know if a particular person was being used, they would be able to check it through the files. However, Agency association would not be directly reflected in a 201 file. Instead, there would be a paper in the file ^{referring} ~~relating~~ to another file in which operational information would be stored. Haltigan explained that a 201 file documents the person but not what the person is doing. A 201 file ^{might} ~~would~~ contain a PRQ, Part I which is entirely biographical information, a security check and newspaper clipping concerning the individual. A case file, on the other hand, reflects the operational information. A case file ^{would} have a two part number, such as 74-6, where the first number reflects the country or area of interest and the second number refers to the specific operation. In regard to the accessibility of case files, Haltigan stated that the area of primary interest is reflected on a 201 file opening sheet and that ~~SR/9~~ ^{SR/9} go to that branch to seek operational information.

When asked about the significance of CI/SEB opening Oswald's 201 file, Hattigan ~~admitted~~ ^{admitted} that ~~he couldn't really say~~ ^{he doesn't} ~~as the date~~ ^{not know} what CI/SEC was doing at the time.

Hattigan was ~~never~~ ^{never} ~~made~~ ^{made} it was possible to purge an individual's file of any operational information by removing any ^{such} reference cards in the 201 file and then removing the pertinent information from the case file. Hattigan stated that he does not know of this type of thing occurring in his experience. He stated that file maintenance was essential for the protection of the operator and stressed that SR/9 in particular was meticulous in its file maintenance.
