The Miami Office advised on June 22, 1961, as follows:

BILL BEUTEL, Music Corporation of America, 7630 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, Florida, advised SA WILLIAM A. HAMILTON June 21, 1961, he met TRAFFICANTE in late 1955 or early 1956, when he, BEUTEL, contacted subject attempting to sell him talent for the San Soucie Gambling Casino, Havana. He stated that on several occasions he did sell talent, however, the reimbursement the talent received from subject was paid directly to the artists and not to BEUTEL or Music Corporation of America. He stated he saw subject in Miami several months ago at the Fontainebleau Hotel, Miami Beach, Florida, but just said hello and did not discuss subject's present activities.

BEUTEL stated that the extravaganzas put on by the San Soucie were mostly of Cuban and South American talent and were not handled by an American booking agency.
