During November 1958 Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-6 stated that he had no personal knowledge as to the whereabouts of BRUNO but was positive BRUNO was in Florida or Havana, Cuba. T-6 related that MARIO MAGGIO, son of MICHAEL MAGGIO (Philadelphia Top Hoodlum) as well as ANGELO BRUNO, told him that BRUNO has a "piece" of the Motel Niconale, Havana, Cuba. According to T-6 MARIO MAGGIO knows the whereabouts of ANGELO BRUNO at all times. T-6 said however, that BRUNO's main contact at Miami, Fla., is BEN GALLUP who controls the pinball machine business for the Italian group in that city. GALLUP's address is 2820 Northwest 7th Avenue, Miami, Fla., telephone number Jefferson 42317, according to T-6. T-6 said that he knows that BRUNO frequents this address when in Florida. He said this address is a business establishment where BEN GALLUP as well as an individual MIKE (INU) operate. MIKE supposedly controls the juke box business for the Italian group.

T-6 stated that he knows that BEN GALLUP at least on one occasion, met ANGELO BRUNO at the Miami Airport when BRUNO was arriving in Miami. He noted that BRUNO usually traveled between Philadelphia and Miami by airlines.

On December 31, 1958, the Miami Division advised that Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-7 had during December 1958, related that ANGELO BRUNO dined at the Luau Restaurant, North Bay Village, Fla., on November 19, 1958. IPPOLITO and BROWN are Trenton, N.J., gamblers and supposedly control the nickelodeons in Cuba. T-7 advised (FNU) BRUNO, a councilman in North Miami Beach, Fla., as a relative; and JOE MILLSTEIN, a night club owner and shylock, as a friend, of ANGELO BRUNO.

On December 12, 1958, CARL CIPRIANI, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Agent, Philadelphia, advised SA PEARCE as follows: From March 1955 to April 1956, he operated in an undercover capacity becoming widely acquainted with or receiving information about, members of the racket element, primarily Italian, in the South Philadelphia area. He said after REGINELLI's death, the New Jersey element of the gang wanted one of their
