Embassy officials reported that they had been told by Dr. Hulperin that he and his wife had been in the Soviet Union since December, 1938, and that he was working for the Soviet Academy of Sciences "Joing research in the foreign field especially relating to underdeveloped countries."

The State Department, recalling that Dr. Halperin was an authority on Latin-American affairs, added that "our information indicates that this probably is the field in which he is working at the present time."

State Department officials have repeatedly called attention to the Soviet trade and cultural offensive in Latin America, Referring to Dr. Halperin's employment by the Soviet Academy, the State Department observed that it was directly subordinate to the Soviet Council of Ministers.

MOSCOW, Sept. 4 (UPI) Maurice H. Halperin today branded a reported State Department statement that he is working as an advised to the Soviet government on Latin American affairs as a "delib erate" and malicious distortion."

In a statement to reporters, Halperin said he is a professor associated with the Academy of Sciences of the USSR, working on a book on Latin American economics, and, he explained the American authorities thow all about it.

(A State Department document in Washington last week said Halperin, a former Boston University professor and World War II intelligence specialist on Latin American affairs, was working for the Soviet government.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R.N. V.), had the document entered in the Congressional Record.)

"it seems to me that the State Department and Senator Keating are sweeping the bottom of the barrel to come upwith this red herring." Halperin said.

"There is nothing mysterious or dubious about my being in Moscow. Since my arrival, I have filed two U. S. income tax returns, listing my salary and emplayer.

"I am not working for the Soviet government any more than Van Cliburn when he performed in a governmentowned concert hall," he continued.

"I am a visiting professor, in the USSR Academy of Sciences and not the first American to be associated with it. For the State of Department to say that I am an adviser to the Russiams on Latin American affairs is a deliberate and malicious distortion.

"Specifically, I am making a study of the Latin American conomy from 1943 to the crists of 1853."

"COMMENT", Dec 75 issue (alumni magazine off; Simon Fraser University in British Colombia.)

2:52:52

Follows, or chance, has played a major role in Simon Fraser Political Science (professor Or. Maunce Halpenn's nearly seventy years of Ma.

It was chance that compreted him to seek employment with the National University of Mexico. It was chance that earthod him a three-year post in Moscow. It was chance that led nim to a treating sant in Guda. And it was chance that brought him to Simon Fraser seven years ago.

In fact, fortune began werbing its capricious influence over his tile evon before Dr. Halpern was born.

"Fingshi have been been in Canada," he says. "My father salled from Liverpool to the New World at the furn of the century, with Montreol as his destination. However, he decided to move on to Boston."

This was a "rather fortunate circumstance over which I had no echino!" since Atominal at the time was still a provincial city while Boston was "a metropole, a great centre of culture and learning and at its spender tackness were available to mo."

Among those bookers which he made use of were the Boston Latin School — a secondary school which boasts such luminaries as Benjamin Franklin and Ralph Waldo Emerson among its alumni — and Hundrid University.

He completed his possymmetric work in Paris at the Softbotha which, at that time, was the most prestigious university in the world and "the impact it had on my way of life and thinking was a permanent ope."

White attending the Somoone, Dame Fortune stepped in and "I was appointed to the faculty as a fleader in North "American Givilization. Even though I came from Harvard, the tend of competence and sconstication of the French students was much higher and I had to work very hard to keep to with thom."

After completing his doctorate, Dr. Halperin joined the faculty at the University of Citationa and found that midwestern state to be "the another country. Sosten and Paris exite much closely resided than were Boston and Oklahoma."

However, chance intervened to rescue him from what could have been a number of matterent years in a trien small and remote university on the American Prairies, turning them into years spent in Tan dasks at high durling."

Cr. National exclusion

"It was during the Depression and jobs were scarce, so the university attracted a number of bright teachers and resourchers whose erst cheese angul not have been Oklahana.

"And when you have a group of people like that, in addition to the opportunity of understanding and learning to appreciate the virtues of micros. America, med, it was something that stayed with the for the rost of the little."

The Second World Wer interced Or. Historin's sojourn at the University of Octanous and he joined the Office of Strategic Services, a special research and intelligence agency attached to the Joint Chiefs of Staff:

"I had a front row seat in the planning of some of the most interesting operations of the war," he says. "I consider my expenences there were at least the equivalent of a second PhD because I was associated with a whole group of social scientists in different disciplines.

"Through this, I had the realization that we had practical matters to consider in the social sciences, as well as theoretical ones. And I learned the value of co-operative effort the value of getting work done on time, and the value of ethiciency in research.

"It halped me to see the relationanta between the social sciences and practical problems. I became more oriented toward problem solving than I had been helore."

Dame Fortune keeps popping up in life of SFU's oldest professor and has taken him to Mexico, Cuba, Moscow — and to 'best place of ali'

After the war, Dr. Halperin worked with the United Nations for a couple of years and then joined the faculty of Boston University where he was involved in the establishment of an Interdisciplinary department of Latin American studies.

During this period he visited Brazil twice, lecturing at the University of Sao Paulo and serving as a consultant to the state government of Sao Paulo. After his second visit, he was decorated by the Brazilian government with the Order of the Southern Cross.

then that chance interfered again, this time in a most mulicious way.

"My stay at Boston coincided with the most intense period of McCarthyism and this raised problems for a great number of people at the time. In my own case, I was given the choice of co-operating with the inquisition or, as it turned out, leading my lob.

"Among other disagreeable aspects of co-operating, it would have turned me into an informer against people who, as far as I know, had committed no crime. I just couldn't think of facing my students with their knowledge that I was an informer."

Leaving Boston University, he went to the National University of Mexico City where he remained for six years. While working there, he did some consulting work for the Mexican government, thereby gaining further practical experience on the problems of underdevelopment in Latin America.

This experience led directly to his next position — a threeyear appointment at the Academy of Sciences in Moscow. Halperin exciains:

"At that time, the period when Kruschev was trying to loosen up some of the rigid controls of Stalin's dictatorship, there was a desire at the Academy to have some western expertise on Latin American developmental problems. In other words, my Mexican experience was a direct prerequisite for the Moscow Invitation.

"It's strange how, in retrospect, what seemed to be a rather difficult choice in 1953 turned out to be very lucky. You never know. Something happens that can crush you or, on the contrary, can make you healthier and more robust than you've ever been before.

"And, when the invitation came from Moscow, I was footloose and free. My status in Meyer, was always that of a visiting professor, so I had no probable of security — tenure or ponsion, for example — to tie my flown when it came, I had nothing to lose and everything to gain."

Or, Halpurin spent three years at the Academy and found it to be an extraordinary experience. "I wasn't there as a tourist; neither was I there as an outside researcher. I was actually in the machine, with no permanent ties to it. I was working in the factory, rather than just studying it."

Foto ence again intervened in his life, this time in the form of the celebrated Latin American guarrilla leader, Che Guevara.

"Late one night, there was a knock on my deer and topened it and there stood Che with a couple of his Cuban friends. He had been told about me by mutual friends in Mexico and they suggested that, in view of the need for competent educators and social scientists in Cuba, it might be interested in accepting an invitation to teach at the University of Havana."

As it happened, Dr. Halperin was interested. He spent the next six years in Cuba, and after leaving, produced a book on the country — The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro: An Essay In Contemporary History. It was published by the University of California Press and a second ection, in paper-back, has recently appeared. (Incidentally, Dr. Halperin's published work spans 45 years and "several thousand pages.")

As with the Moscow appointment, it was the fact that he was freed of concerns about job security, since he had none, of which allowed him to accept Guevara's offer.

Although Cuba was "a very pleasant country," Or. Halperin found life there to be somewhat disconcering since,
"as a highly-paid foreign expert, I lived high off the hog and didn't share the austerity of the rest of the country.

"And it was troubling, you know, when neighbors would knock on our door to see if we could spare a thimbleful of salt or a tablespoon of cooking oil and there we were, sitting with everything at our disposal."

And a further quirk of fate, naturally, brought him to Simon Fracer in 1968. He'd met a Canadian while in Havana and one dey, about a year later, he received a chone call "from a nace called Burnaby." It was the same Canadian, invaling him to participate in a seminar on Latin America, with "all expenses paid."

When he received the invitation, in the spring of 1968, he had already resigned his position in Havana and was planning to return to the United States the following September. "When the invitation came, I thought, "Two weeks? Why not?", so I accepted and came up here and, like the man who came to dinner, they couldn't got rid of me.

"I never dreamed I would end up in Canada. Three-quarters of a century after my father left it, but I now feel thoroughly assimilated to the Canadian environment." In fact, he is so well assimilated that he is now listed in the Canadian edition of Who.

Ouring his well-travelled life, Or. Halperin has had the opportunity to teach at a number of reputable institutions in North America, Europe and Latin America but he says that he's "never been in a more congenial place than Simon Frater, never in my life.

"It's the best place, all in all, that I've ever below. Students and faculty have it very good here and I'm not talk on only about the splendid scenery and the mild chimate. From the first for learning, teaching, research and recreation, and a steady customer at the swimming pool and the recreations. From which know — are magnificent."

"COMMENT", Dec 75 issue (alumni ragazine of Simon Fraser University in British Colombia.)

Fortune, or chance, has played a major role in Simon Fraser. Political Science professor or, Mailinge Hulbern's hearty seventy years of ide.

It was chance that competed him to seek employment with the National University of Mexico, it was chance that comed him a three-year post in Moscow. It was chance that led him to a teaching stint in Cuba. And it was chance that brought him to Simon Fraser seven years ago.

In fact, fortune began wielding its capricious influence over his life even before Dr. Halperin was born.

"I might have been born in Canada," he says. "My father sailed from Liverpool to the New World at the turn of the century, with Montreal as his destination. However, he decided to move on to Boston."

This was a "rather fortunate circumstance over which I had no control," since Montreal at the time was still a provincial city while Boston was "a metropolis, a great centre of culture and learning and all its splendid facilities were available to me."

Among those facilities which he made use of were the Boston Latin School — a secondary school which boasts such luminaries as Benjamin Franklin and Raiph Waldo Emerson emong its alumni — and Harvard University.

It is completed this post-graduate work in Pans at the Son bonne which, at that time, was the most prestigious university in the world and "the impact it had on my way of life and thinking was a permanent one."

While attending the Sorbonne, Dame Fortune stepped in and "I was appointed to the faculty as a Reader in North 'American Civilization. Even though I came from Harvard, the tevel of competence and sophistication of the French students was much higher and I had to work very hard to keep up with them."

After completing his doctorate. Dr. Halperin joined the faculty at the University of Cidahoma and found that midwestern state to be "like another country. Soston and Paris were much closely related than were Boston and Oklahoma."

However, chance intervened to rescue him train what could have been a number of indifferent years in a then small and remote university on the American Prairies, turning them into years spent in "an oasis of high culture."

Dr. Halpenin explains:

"It was during the Depression and jobs were scarce, so the university attracted a number of bright teachers and reservichers whose first choice might not have been Oidahoria.

"And when you have a group of people like that, in addition to the opportunity of understanding and learning to appreciate the virtues of micros America, well, it was something that stayed with nie for the rost of my Me:"

The Second World War interrupted Dr. Happenn's sojourn at the University of Oklahoma and he joined the Office of Strategic Services, a special research and intelligence agency attached to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"I had a front row seat in the page of some of the most interesting operations of the wart his says. "I consider my expenences there were at least the equivalent of a second PhD because I was associated with a whole group of social scientists in different disciplines.

"Through this, I had the restration that we had practical matters to consider in the social specifies, as well as theoretical ones. And I learned the leave of co-operative effort the value of getting work done on asset, and the value of efficiency in research.

"It halped me to see the rebbonship between the social sciences and practical problems. I became more oriented toward problem solving than I had been before."

Dame Fortune keeps popping up in life of SFU's oldest professor and has taken him to Mexico, Cuba, Moscow — and to 'best place of all'

After the war, Dr. Halperin worked with the United Nations for a couple of years and then joined the faculty of Boston University where he was involved in the establishment of an interdisciplinary department of Latin American studies.

During this period he visited Brazil twice, lecturing at the University of Sao Paulo and serving as a consultant to the state povernment of Sao Paulo. After his second visit, he was decorated by the Brazilian government with the Order of the Southern Cross.

It was then that chance interfered again, this time in a most malicious way.

"My stay at Boston coincided with the most intense period of McCarthyism and this raised problems for a great number of people at the time. In my own case, I was given the choice of co-operating with the inquisition or, as it turned out, losing my lob.

"Among other disagreeable aspects of co-operating, it would have turned me into an informer against people who, as far as I knew, had committed no crime. I just couldn't think of facing my students with their knowledge that I was an informer."

Leaving Boston University, he went to the National University of Mexico City where he remained for six years. While working there, he did some consuting work for the Mexican government, thereby gaining turther practical experience on the problems of underdevelopment in Latin America.

This experience led directly to his next position — a threeyear appointment at the Academy of Sciences in Moscow. Halperin explains:

"At that time, the period when Kruschev was trying to loosen up some of the rigid controls of Stalin's dictatorship, there was a desire at the Academy to have some western expertise on Latin American developmental problems. In other words, my Mexican experience was a direct prerequisite for the Moscow invitation."

"It's strange how, in retrospect, what seemed to be a rather difficult choice in 1953 turned out to be very lucky. You never know. Something hopens that can crush you or, on the contrary, can make you hearther and more robust than you've over been before.

"And, when the invitation came how Moscow, I was footbose and free. My status in Mewas always that of a visiting professor, so I had no problem of security—tenure or pension, for example—to the mission when it came. I had nothing to lose and everything to cain."

Dr. Halperin spent three years at the Academy and found it to be an extraordinary experience. "I wasn't there as a tourist; neither was I there as an outside researcher. I was actually in the machine, with no permanent ties to it. I was working in the factory, rather than just studying it."

Fate ence again intervened in his life, this time in the form of the celebrated Latin American guerrilla leader, Che Guevara

"Late one night, there was a kneck on my deer and it opened it and there stood Che with a couple of his Cuban friends. He had been told about me by mutual friends in Mexico and they suggested that, in view of the need for competent educators and social scientists in Cuba, I might be interested in accepting an invitation to teach at the University of Havana."

As it happened, Dr. Halperin was interested. He spent the next six years in Cuba, and after leaving, produced a book on the country — The Rise and Dectrie of Fidel Castro: An Essay In Contemporary History. It was published by the University of California Press and a second edition, in paperback, has recently appeared. (Incidentally, Dr. Halberin's published work spans 45 years and "several thousand pages.")

As with the Moscow appointment, it was the fact that he was freed of concerns about job security, since he had none, which allowed him to accept Guevara's offer.

Although Cuba was "a very pleasant country," Cr. Hotel perin found life there to be somewhat disconcerting since, "as a highly-paid foreign expert, I lived high off the hog and didn't share the austerity of the rest of the country."

"And it was troubling, you know, when neighbors would knock on our door to see if we could seare a thimbteful of sail or a tablespoon of cooking oil and there we were, sitting with everything at our disposal."

And a further quirk of fate, naturally, brought him to Simon Fraser in 1968. He'd met a Canadian while in Havana and one day, about a year later, he received a phone call "from a niace called Bumaby," It was the same Canadian, inviting him to participate in a seminar on Latin America, with "all-expenses paid."

When he received the invitation, in the spring of 1968, he had already resigned his position in Havana and was planning to return to the United States the following Sectember. "When the invitation came, I thought. "Two weeks? Why not?", so I accepted and came up here and, like the man who came to dinner, they couldn't get rid of me.

"I never dreamed I would end up in Canada. Three-quarters of a century after my father left it; but I now feel thoroughly assimilated to the Canadian environment." In fact, he's so well-assimilated that he is now listed in the Canadian edition of Who's Who.

During his well-travelled life, Dr. Halberin has had the opportunity to teach at a number of reputable institutions in North America, Europe and Latin America but he says that he's inever been in a more congenial place than Simon Fruser, never in my life.

"It's the best place, all in all, that the ever below. Students and faculty have it very good here and I'm not talk on only about the splendid scenery and the mid climate. The involuties for tearning, teaching, research and recreation in a steady customer at the swimming post and their you know — are magnificent."

Endependence Entropied

The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro

by Maurice Halperin

(University of California Press; $12.95)

At the end of a passage describing the cupheric early days of the Culon Revedition. Maurice Halperin lamente Also it was expland to change. In effect, this attitude symbolizes his reaction and assessment of Castro and Cuba in this first volume of a two-part study of the revolution from the first days of Fidelismo to the present. A note of Institution which occasionally marks his pairative of the first five years of the revolution undoubtedly comes from his sense of the untultilled promise of the July 28th Movement. For a great many Western intellectuals (including Helpevin), this has been a characteristic reaction. In the first exuberant months, it seemed as if Cuba might become the first Socialist revolution to rise spointancously out, of historical circumstances, not led by a rigid party structure, and the first to proclaim a "pyrous socialism," rother than the Naturals norseities of work norms, Moderical conformity and specifice. After several weeks of living in Cuba. through its best and bleakest moments. Halperin feels that this possibility is extinguished. One feels that he wanted very much for it to succeed! His back is an explanation of why the revolution

Although the current volume only covers the first five years of the revolution; the author breaks into the chronology to keep the next years' events in mind. Everything about the recolution was in time as he sees it, but at the same time Castio's bungling, beavado and adventurism made surrender to a rigid, burconcratic socialism ratingst inevitable. Nothing, from Halpenin's point of view, could be a sadder other to need this devolution than the support Cobe but to the Pois Societ invasion of Creeks-kovskia.

Halperin's basic argument is that Castro's "rise and diction" must be seen as or international event. For this reason be writes remainly about the foreign policy of the revolution tibe only pictores in the book show Castin ditting his booting forthe secret (mon). If it is accurate to say that the revolution was rushed leftward and finally into an alliance with the Seviet Union by the inept and hostile policy of the United States, then it is also true that Cuba's tate has continued to depend upon the international struggle between the US and the Soviet Union. While Castro may have been committed to Cuban nationalism and social reform at home, he could, ironically, only achieve these goals by means of an aggressive foreign policy.

Castro remains a vague and blustery figure while Che Guevara figures hardly at all. By placing his emphasis elsewhere, Halperin tells the story of the revolution through the events which touched it from the outside, particularly those which effected its lies to the Communist world. Most important were the Sino-Soviet struggle, the world price of sugar, the internal buteaucratic struggle of the USSR, the changing American presidency, the role of the Culon Communist Party, the CIA, and so on. Cathering his facts primarily from magazine and newspaper articles. plus his own just-hand knowledge of events, he picors together a lasquating reading of Castro's 'speeches, policy changes and their context. The shifting and rather indecisive attitude of the revolutionary leadership toward artistic and intellectual liberty, for example, has stemmed from Castra's need to balance conflicting demands; for orthodoxy by Culsan and Russian Communists, and for greater freedoms by Western intellerneis

Castro's dominia hastalways been to assert Cubay independence, and yet retain adaptisent with the USSR Perhaps this controdictory policy was domined, if for no other reason than Cuba's encourage dependence upon other nations to absorb her products and provide her with energy. In any case, when Castro opted to exploit the Cold War and let Khrushchev foot the bill, he created the crisis which Halperin pinpoints. He made the communic success of the revolution at home an absolute necessity, yet a necessity that could only be met with outside help. Castro's own impatience, inefficiency and indecision made matters worse. From the early attempts to industrialize to the abrupt and devastating decision to produce a mammoth sugar crop in 1970, the Cuban economy, the author argues, has continually sunk to lower levels. The result is Castro's dependence. upon the Soviet Union, an admission of failure.

Halperin's emphasis on foreign affairs makes good sense, but leaves little room for discussion of the internal dynamics of the revolution and of the impact of social reforms on the population. It makes what Castro said and did: and the revolution itself, explicable only in a sort of code of international affairs. However, given the volatile nature of Cuban politics and the Cold War, it still seems too early to write off the revolution.

The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro — As Essay in Contemporary History, by Maurice Halperin. Berkeley, Los Angeles, London: University of California Press. $12.98.

By Philip W. Bonia!

Maurice Halperin has been forced out of two teaching positions at American universities because of his political beliefs. He apent three years on the faculty of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, went to Cuba in 1963 at the invitation of the Guevara and, though his relations with Guevara quickly deteriorated, apent six years at the University of Havana.

Though one might expect from such a background that dreary mix of the stuffy and the shrill so often associated with the polemics of the far left or right, Professor Halperin's book is a work of insight, wit and understanding.

In this book he concentrates on the first five years of Castro's rule, through 1964, with a sequel to come. However, this volume contains enough about the later years to warrant the use of the word "decline" in his title.

After stressing the pride and optimism of the revolution's fifth anniversary, he writes that none of those present at its celebration "could remotely imagine the disappointments and failures that lay shead, and that on the tenth anniversary of the Revolution, there would be only bitter austerity and hard work — and the tarnished but unfinching charisms of Fidel — to arouse their enthusiasm."

Professor Halperin's account of Castro's first two years in power (when the author was not yet in Cuba) does not give due credit to the United States. After all, initially the United States did make efforts to find an accommodation with Castro, despite the latter's victous anti-Americanism and his phindering of American properties in ways not even provided by Castro-dictated legislation.

Nor does he adequately explain how, after the pelity of accommodation had been abandoned, injudicious American economic sanctions plus the Bay of Pigs failure left the presumably reluctant and sceptical Russians no choice other than massive support for Castro and Guevara.

But when Castro and Khrushchev had become masters of the Cuban people's destiny, Professor Halperin comes into his own. His description of the relations between those volatile and voluble rulers is a delight. The Chairman's surrender over the missiles in his October, 1962, confrontation with President Kennedy, without informing Castro first, much less consulting him, was deeply himiliating to his Cuban ally.

Yet by April of 1963 the sulks and strains of the previous fall had been banished. With uncontested rhetoric the two autocrats bemused their peoples and themselves into the apectacular euphoria that surrounded Castro's visit to Russia. How this was done is but one engaging example of Professor Halparin's analytic and narrative talents.

This exuberant reconciliation did not prove taiting. Khrushchev was overthrown—perhaps partly because of his unprofitable strategic involvement in Cuba. Castro's enport of subversion and insurrection to other American republics was considered tactically undestrable by the Kremlin.

Guevara's fatal campaign in Bolivia and other setbacks, combined with the failure of grandiose but unsound schemes for industrialization and agricultural diversification at home, considerably diminished Castro's atture.

ilis downward curve was further accelerated by failure — after six years of preparations and exhortations — to produce ten million tons of sugar in 1970 and by the disruption of the Cuban economy that efforthad caused. Castro's later reconcillations with his Russian patrons smacked more than a little of submissions.

Professor Halperin also describes the Washington-initiated exploration during the final weeks of President Kennedy's life, of a basis for discussions between the Cuban and American governments. He believes that if Kennedy had lived something constructive might have evolved from the effort. His conclusion is debatable, since nine years have now elapsed without any significant positive development.

During those nine years there has indeed been a cooling down of American attitudes toward Cuba.

that Castro's attitude toward the United States has not changed. His concept is still that his people, armed to the feeth and knowing only what he chooses to tell them, must remain blindly united around their Maximum-Leader, ready to thwart the plots of the once defeated but still wickedly unrepentant imperialists.

This is unfortunate. Although a return to the old association between the two countries is neither desirable nor possible, the people of both would profit from a rational relationship. This will not be easy to establish even when both governments are truly ready to face the task. Meanwhile in the light of Professor Halperin's brilliant account of contemporary Cuba, it seems reasonable to speculate that increasing numbers of Castro's subjects are less willing now to entrust their lives to the phenomenally gifted orchestrator of mass emotions—politically often astute yet repeatedly incompetent in so many fifteds—who has been their absolute ruler since 1809.

Philip Boisal was American Ambassador to Cuba, 1959-1960, the first two years of Castro's rule. He is the author of "Cuba, Castro, and the United States" (University of Pittsburgh Press).

The Rise and Decline of Fidel Castro Maurice Halperin

The author of this unusual book was twice forced out of teaching positions at American universities because of his political beliefs. He spent three years on the faculty of the USSR Academy of Sciences and five years, from 1962 to 1968, at the University of Havana. He went to Cuba in 1962 on the invitation of Che Guevara, who had visited him in Moscow, and there gathered the materials for this intimate portrait of the Castro regime.

Mr. Halperin concentrates his attention on Castro's foreign policy, placing it in the context of domestic policy and conditions. Obviously skilled in reading the new socialist rhetoric, Professor Halperin guides the reader through the maze of documents, speeches, and propaganda which constitute the record of the Castro regime during the sensational events involving Kennedy, Khrushchev, missiles, and the CIA. Although the main narrative is concerned with the years 1950-1964; primarily the period of the rise of Fidel Castro—it contains digressions into events of the following years when according to the authorize to the authorize or, Castro's great utopian dreams turned into nightmares. A second volume, carrying the story down to the present, is in preparation.

Maurice Halperin is Professor of Political Science at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver, B.C.

"A brilliant contribution to the literature on contemporary Cuba and perhaps even more a remarkable series of insights into the new politics of mass society."

Dear RJ.

Maurice Hyman HALPERIN

Reference John W.'s memorandum to Joseph H. dated 4 November, 1969.

- 1. Unfortunately in your letter under reference you did not mention Subject's date of birth. Cur inspection of Border Control lists show that two people have entered ISRAEL who might possibly be identical with Subject:
 - a. Morris H. ALPERN
 Father's name Solomon
 Born 1886, POLAND
 Holder of United States passport no. B-246607
 Visited ISRAEL from 20 May, 1964 22 June 1964.
 - b. Morris Hyman HALFERIN
 Father's name: Henny
 Born 1886, POLAND
 Holder of United States passport no. A-1735875
 Entered ISRAEL on 13 October, 1970.
- Is Subject identical with either of the two above?
- 3. We should be most grateful for additional personal details on Subject.

SUBJECT: Maurice Hyman HALPERING Problem BPOB: Boston, 3 March 1906

- 1. The source for the following information is a highly-sensitive, thoroughly-tested informant with knowledge of XG3 activities in North America during the Second World War:
- A. Source knew that Maurice Hyman HALPERIN. Chief of the Latin American Division of 0.5.5., was a valuable KGB agent while he was in 0.5.5.
- B. Source knew three KGB officers who at various times during the Second World war were responsible for directing HALPERIN and other penetrations of the U. S. Government Vasilij Nikhailovich ZHBILIN aka ZARUBIN, Soviet Vice-Consul in New York City; Pavel Panteleymonovich KLARIN, Soviet Vice-Consul in New York and Stepan Zakharovich APRESYAN, Soviet Vice-Consul in New York.
- 2. It is known from several other sources, including Elizabeth BENTLEY, that HALPENIN had been involved in communist activities since the late 1920's and had worked for the KGB during World War II.
- 3. HALPERIN refused to tell a U. S. Senate committee if he had been a CP member and in 1953 he fled from the U.S. to Mexico. In 1958 he went to the USSR and allegedly worked for the Academy of Science and Moscow University. In 1962 he left Moscow and went to Cuba. He aided Alfred Kaufman STERN and Martha Dodd STERN to escape from the U.S.A. to Czechoslovakia in 1957.
 - 4. HALPERIN's career can be divided into the following periods:

1931-1941 Professor at the University of Oklahoma
1941-1945 C.O.I. - O.S.S.
1945-1946 Pepartment of State
1946-1949 American-Jewish Conference, handling minority groups and acting as a liaison official with the U.N.
1949-1953 Soston University
1953-1958 Mexico

1958-1968 U.S.S.R. and Cuba

1963-1969 Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, British Columbia.

5. If HALPERIN agreed to cooperate, he would be an extremely valuable source on a number of topics, as is indicated by the outline of his career. One of the most important topics, and the one in which we are in the best position to check the validity of his information, is that of KGB penetration of the U. S. Government, especially 0.S.S. and the State Department.

- 6. HALPERIN has indicated that he is now anti-Soviet.
- 7. HALPERIN's son, Dr. David HALPERIN, lives at 5309 South Harper Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
- 8. HALPERIN's daughter, Judith GAMORON, and his son-in-law Rabbi Hillel GAMORON, reside at 617 North Witcomb Drive, Palatine, Illinois.
 - 9. HALPERIN is quite deaf.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: "American Defectors to the USSR"

- 1. The attached material was part of a soft file entitled "American Defectors to the USSR", which was set up by SR/6 (Support) around 1960 and maintained by various SR components until ca. 1963. The compilations were derived from a variety of sources, and contain both classified and overt data.
- 2. In the fall of 1966, the files were turned over to CI Staff. In most instances, basic information was then abstracted for the US Defector Machine Program. In all instances in which the material was unique, or represented a valuable collation effort, it has been incorporated into the appropriate 201 file, along with a copy of this memorandum.
- 3. It is suggested that any dissemination of this data should be coordinated with SB Division and with CI Staff (CI/MRO), in view of the frequently inadequate sourcing and of the fact that disseminations have already been made through the US Defector Machine Program.

1931. Already a Harvard graduate and communist, he became a professor at Oklahova University. (O files)

1935. He made a trip to Oubs, whence he and other left-wingers were arrested and expelled. During this period he continued to direct communist activities in Walahosa and made sauctrimenter mentercanteconferential excession many trips to Merico to confer with Mexican communist leaders. (00 files)

1940. He cashed a check drawn on the Sank of Foreign Trade, Moscow. This was not discovered until 1941; see next item. (CO files)

19hl. Congressional investigation of anxim subversive activities in Gklahome uncovered the check-cashing, his 1935 visit to and expulsion from Cuba, association with leftist individuals, articles to left-wing unblications, membership in left-wing groups like Civil Liberties Committee, etc. (SES, memo from Herman Herton to Sureau of Security and Consular Affairs, 10 August 1980)

8 September 1944. Dismissed from Oklahoma V. while on sabbatical. Reinstated 11 Feb 1942 but with understanding to would resign at bermination of sabbatical. (SRS, Berman Horton memo)

1962. Late in the year, Elizabeth Sentley was introduced to him by Jacob GOIOS, according to her 1943 testimony. (CI/SR, OC, SRS)

1913. As of this time he worked for CSS in bashington D.C., despite his known communist activities any sympathies. He was (or became before the end of the war) head of the CSS Latin American Division. (Washington Fost, I Sept 1960, attached). According to Sligabeth Sentley's testimony and book ("Out of Bondage"), he supplied Golos and the communist apparat with information from his OSS office. (SIG,SES)

1918. Elizabeth Tentley testified that she had met him in late 1942 through Jacob Colos (known Soviet agent) and that shile Halperin was employed by the OSS in wartime Washington he game information to Golos. (SIG)

Autumn 1949. He began teaching at Foston University. (SRS, Horton memo)

Late 1952 or early 1953. By this time he was director of Latin American Regional Studies at Foston University. He was summoned to testify before the Jenner Committee in Boston, since Sentley had named him as one of her sources. Es refused to say whether he was a communist. (OC Miles)

Later in 1953. He was suspended by certain S.V. authorities in disagreement with an impartial B.W. committee which had decided not to fire him for the time being. (00 files)

28 November 1953. The Halperins took off for exico. (SRE, Horton meno)

6 January 1954. He was formally dismissed from B.U. (Sho, Horton memo)

about their approintion with Jack Bolde and Boris Horros. Halperin was very closely associated with them ani instrumental in their setaway plans - he not their plane reservations without saving they were for the Steins until the last minute, etc. (SED; IF Herald Trib 1 Sept 60) A# 25 361

Later in 1957 or the first bull of 1958. Public disclosure of his role in the Stern affair caused him and his wife (Edith nee Frisch) to lose their jobs. She was a teacher at the American Uchool Foundation, while he worked in a Mexican Covernment bank and at the Mexico University National School of Political and Social Sciences. (SRS, Horton memo)

26 July 1958. They applied for US passports at the American Embassy in Mexico City. (SIG, Horton memo)

26 August 1958. Their passporbts were issued. (SRS, Horton memo). This followed a 1950 Supreme Court. decision that the State Benartment could not demy a passport because of communist or other political beliefs. (Wash Post, 1 Sept 60)

25 September 1958. Their passports were visaed by the Mexican authorities "to travel in Mexico in the status of immigrants," valid till 25 Sept 59. (SRS, DEF_56611. By this time the Fexican Government had begun deporting US communists. (SRS, Horton memo)

13 October 1958. They departed Mexico. (Morton momo and Wash Post, 1 Sep 60)

11 November 1958. They arrived in Czechoslovakia. (SRS, DEF-56611)

3 December 1958. They arrived in the USSR on tourist visas to firm up tentative job offer (the Soviets wouldn't commit themselves before he actually in USSR.) Job was visiting professor under Social Sciences Division of USSR Academy of Sciences, on contract till July 1961; no teaching, but research and handling student theses. Salary unfavorable since in rubles, but he hoped to compensate by getting experience and material for book; also use rubles for grand tour of USSR before departure. (CI/SIG and SRS, DSF-56611)

13 December 1958. They in Moscow as of this date but must have gone to Leningrad soon after, since he said his job was there at first. hey moved to Moscow some time before July 1960. (SRS, DBF-56611)

15 July 1960. He and wife appeared at the American babassy Moscow to renew their passports. No excuse for not having reported in earlier. The passports were renewed for two years, to expire July 1962. They gave their legal address as Medellin 36, Mexico City, and their current address as Kutuzovski Prospekt 13, apt 127, Moscow. Halperin gave them the job information reported above under 3 December 1958 and indicated that they intended to leave the USSR upon expiration of the contract in July 1961. Both were frank about the shortcomings of Soviet life. When asked if they would return to the States in July 61, he said that their permanent address was Mexico. A daughter and her husband and children were visiting them until 3 July. (SRS, 188-56611) 2h August 1960)

October 1960. The American Ambassy requested that he appear for an interview about just what his job was. He wrote on 30 Uctober saying that they were just leaving on vacation and swearing that his job was not in conflict with his US citizenship. A certain Max Berger (not further identified | reported that Balberin was setting higher-than-usual salary and his passport, should be revoked. (SRS, DBA-1753, 6 February 1962)

Severaler-ecenter 180. Halperin, "an identified deviet agent who left the US in 1800 [sie Tand is now in the Soviet Union," was to be head of one of the two new organizations founded during a Mescew conference of communist leaders: "office for permanent studies and cooperation with Latin American marties" to be organized by the Communist Parties of Argentina, Prazil, and Cuba, and to be located in Feiping. [This presumably never happened.] (SRS, TRNS-3/Mc2,130, 13 January 1961, info Nov-Dec 60, from an official Swedish service from usually-reliable source who Polish efficial with high-level contacts) duly 1962. Their passports would have excited, requiring issuance of new ones. (Unly passports actually issued - not removed - after September 1959 had the new three-year validity instead of the old two-year validity, according to Central Processing.) We have no record of maissue of new ones, but it seems to have been done, because at the end of 1962 Halperin spoke of keeping his US citisenship after moving to Cuba.

1 October 1962. They moved to Cuba. He was already working in a textile factory and world start teaching at Havandiniversity on 8 October. (SRS; copy of a glad-to-be-back, pro-Cuban propaganda-like interpretable personal letter written by Halperin). They got a big welcome in Cuba because they came from Moscow, but it soon were off and the Cubans considered him cold and pedantic. (SRS, DEA-62084, 13 January 1964)

21 January 1963. Elizabeth Mora (long-time communist) returned to rexico from a women's congress in Havana, where she had seen the Palperins. They had a mansion and servants because of his "important job," but he had aged greatly, looked old, had to do without such amenities as underwear and socks, was rationed to one tube of toothpaste every six months, etc. Wife said it was Soviet treatment that had broken him, not Cuban. They intended to stay in Cuba because of the friendlier climate and his feeling more useful there. She wanted to become a Cuban citizen so that she could visit her son and his family in rexico, but he planned to keep his US citizenship. (She, DRA-34390, 26 Feb 63)

17 June 1963. Date of VIEW 3538, IN 61623,: a VIEW case officer, JOANNESS, in touch with malperin who in Vienna writing a book on the Castro impact on South America. Joanness rated him "sound non-communist leftist without party ties or extremist dogmatism" - ! (SRS)

October or November 1963. Published article about damage to Cuba from thurricane Flora in vetober. He reportedly an economist employed by Anban Government. (SES, DEA-62084, 13 Jan 64)

16 August 1960. On this date, according to LTT article of 5 Sept 60, the called on the US Emb for renewal of his American nessport. (Reproduction of article is in with Fartim and Mitchell material in Kay Grady's USA file.) Renewal was apparently being deleyed, possibly because of renewed attempts within the US Govt to demy passports to commit sympathizers.

5 Sept 50. The same NT article reported just above said that he had just ascalled a State Department report that he was working as an advisor to the Sov Govt on Latin American affairs. Said he was prefessor associated with Academy of Sciences, writing book on Latin American economy 1945-58. "There is nothing mysterious or dubious about my being in Moscow. Since my arrival I have filed two US income tax returns, listing my salary and employer. I am not working for the Soviet Woyt any more than Van Clibura was when he performed in a Govt-owned concert hall. I am a visiting prof in the USER AS and not the first American to be associated with it. My appointment and my Soviet visa espire in Júly 1961."

Subject: Current Address of Maurice Halperin

- 1. A source of this office has just advised us that he received a Christmas card (1962) from Maurice Halperin on which the return address was given as: "Apt C-2, Calle 12, no 103, Mirasar, Habana, Cuba." The only message on the card was one of Christmas greatings. Halperin and our source have boom each other for a number of years and they always exchange Christmas cards. This is the first one Halperin has sent with a Cuban address on it. The last time that our source may Halperin was in Moscow when he (the forcer) was visiting in the USER during August-Beptember 1961 as part of an official US delegation.
- 2. In view of Halperin's past activities and associations, we are making this information known to you. Our source comments that Halperin always seems to show up wherever there is some sort of activity going on.

THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION:

Cuban national, A 12 170 210, who arrived in the US in June 1962 as a political SOURCE refugee.

> Source is a graduate engineer who served for a year in the Ministry of Public Works following the advent of the Castro regime, and then was assigned to the Ministry of Foreign Relations and went to the USSR as Economic Counselor. He was in the USSN from October 1960 to February 1961. Shortly after his return to Cuba he took anylum in the Argentine Embassy where he remained. more than a year until his safe-conduct was arranged. This is one of several reports from source.

This report emanated from the Caribbean Admission Center at Opa-Locka, Florida.

- From October 1960 to February 1961 I served as Economic Counselor of the Cuban Embassy in the USCR. During my stay I met and became fairly well acquainted with a number of defectors from the West, including Douglas McLean, who defected from the UK, and liaurice Halments from the US. not neet Guy Burgess, because I was told that he is in bad physical condition due to excess drinking. McLean, who is now known as Frazier, likewise drinks heavily, and at a party the hostess out down on his liquor saying, "If he drinks too much he gets in bad shape."
- McLean and his family are living in Soviet Government-furnished quarters in a new, but not elaborate, apartment building near the Maraine Motel. Mis wate made a number of remarks to my wate about how far it is necessary to walk to get food, or anything else, in the USSE. Othernise the did not complain. Molean made humorous Jokes about shortcomings of lawing in the USSR, including comments about the elevator in his apartment building never working. He also made some half-hearted tokes about the forsets always spitting when they spoke.
- At the time I knew him he was on the staff of an English language publication, TEconomic Affairs. Y
- Maurice Halperin was a 10 national, and I believe taught economics at a US university. He subsequently worked at the National Pant of Mexico, but was expelled about 1996 and went to the USSR. Halperin is now a lecturer in economics at Moscov University. Malperin assisted in gathering data used by "Che Chevara in his meech at Punta del Este, and commented about 11 when the speech was published.

- 6. Religerin mentioned on a number of occurations that he would like to some back to the TW, and at one, time asked up if he should accept a position in Suba which had been office to be him to Subar Lawre to believe he has regretted his going to the UNSE. He is always [spring" about unmleasant aspects of life in the Soviet Union.
