My letter dated February 17, 1967, reported that Harrison E. Salisbury of "The New York Times" was in contact with Harry Freeman, Managing Editor, Tass News Agency, official Soviet Government news-gathering organization in New York, New York, concerning Salisbury's proposed trip to the Soviet Union.

A confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past made available the following on March 10, 1967.

Salisbury told Freeman he had returned from the USSR one week previously and that he had arranged with Aleksandr A. Vishnevsky, Assistant Director, Tass News Agency, Moscow, USSR, for the use of Tass photo archives. Freeman told Salisbury he was going to New Orleans for the hearings but he does not take the matter seriously and will not write anything phony. Salisbury said it was his impression that the USSR would not believe that District Attorney Garrison is a publicity hound. Salisbury suggested that he and Freeman get together when Freeman returns from New Orleans.

Freeman and Sergey A. Losev, Acting Correspondent in Charge, Tass News Agency, New York, have reservations to travel to New Orleans, Louisiana, on March 13, 1967, and will probably return to New York, New York, on March 17, 1967. Freeman informed an individual in New Orleans that he and Losev would be in that city during the coming week and were advised it would be necessary for them to check with the
