Re Chicago airtel 1/18/74. u

Regarding Giancana's apartment in Beirut which is close proximity to the Officer's Club, it should be noted that the officer's club is located on the waterfront in the Beirut Harbor. On one side is the Phoenicia Hotel (an Intercontinental Hotel owned by Pan American Airlines) and on the other side a cemetery. To the rear of the officer's club are low class two story buildings which have been occupied by the same families for years (X) u

In addition, the Israelis have never bombed the officer's club or any other building in Beirut. The only raid in Beirut was in April, 1973, and no buildings were bombed in Beirut. The Israelis bombed only one building during this raid on the outskirts of Beirut to cause a diversion and in this area are housed refugees living in temporary huts and shacks. Bombings in Beirut are practically a weekly affair and very little attention is given to them. If there is no obvious reason for a bombing, the Lebanese usually blame the Israelis or the CIA. (X) u

The Surete Generale (SG), Beirut, which controls all exit and entry points, places the names of all individuals entering or departing Lebanon into their computer. The computer broke down last week and it will take until 2/25/74 at the earliest to repair it. As soon as it is repaired, Legat will check it to determine if KAREN LERNER has visited Lebanon and recheck concerning the subject (X) u
