work. It would be easier to put your line on one of the other floors and rent an office on that floor. They can rent an office in this building and then where your line runs through the junction box there they tie a six inch piece of wire from your cable to their extra house cable. And that comes right into the jack like a phone. So if we find that extra wire, a six inch wire, from one of these boxes, then automatically we'll know that's the floor that their tap is on. So then what we'll do is put a buzzer on them until the phone rings back. Then when we hear the phone ring back we'll know what room they're in. Then we'll get a key and bust in. Of course if there is someone in they will just play dumb. If there's one on, we'll find it and we'll go in the room that it's in.

MARCY: Five to one they're on the board at the phone company and we're dead there.

UNKNOWN: Nothing we can do. Except reach out for some friends in the phone company.

MARCY: Yeah. I got a guy I got ahold of.

(MARCY takes phone call from FREDDY ROTI)

UNKNOWN tells CHARLEY: All they gotta do is have an office on another floor in this building.

It is pointed out that when these individuals departed from the offices the power was cut on CG 6576-C* so that this individual would not accidentally uncover this source. The source was reactivated at approximately 8:00 p.m. last evening and is continuing at this time to function in the former manner.

It is felt that this situation has in no way hindered the effectiveness of CG 6576-C*. It is pointed out that should MARCY continue to feel that his line is tapped by the FBI that he will merely refrain from the use of the phone call for pertinent conversations. It is felt that this will work to the advantage of the Chicago Division in that he will have some of the individuals with whom he would have formerly conversed on the phone come to his office to discuss their business. It is pointed out that a very small amount of
