It is noted that HARRY COHN has denied that ROSELLI was ever employed by him.

MUIR stated that BRYAN FOY (a movie producer) was ROSELLI'S sponsor when he came out of the penitentiary, and FOY and ROSELLI produced several pictures together and made quite a bit of money.

She added that ROSELLI is no longer in the picture business and now has several concessions at Las Vegas casinos. She said he has had to give these concessions up since the shake up of the Tropicana Hotel following the finding of a casino "take" on a slip of paper on FRANK COSTELLO when he was shot. MUIR could furnish no information as to why ROSELLI could lose these concessions. She said ROSELLI used to be mixed up in a lot of things but had "gone straight" since his release from prison.

Informant T-1 advised on February 26, 1958 that he first met ROSELLI in the office of WILLIE SHEAN at Twentieth Century-Fox Studios in about 1932; that he was impressed at the time because ROSELLI then had the reputation for being a gangster and it was the informant's first impression of meeting a gangster. He knew nothing about ROSELLI'S activities at that time and knew him only very casually until after the war, when he met ROSELLI again at Eagle Lion Studios where informant, who was a writer, worked on some films in which ROSELLI had an interest.

Informant said that ROSELLI has frequently mentioned what a terrible thing it was to have to be incarcerated in a prison and has stated that he never wants to go to prison again.

Informant stated that in his opinion, ROSELLI is "sex crazy", that women play a very important part in his life, and he is "always looking for women".

Informant said that he honestly believes that ROSELLI has reformed in recent years; that he, informant, knows nothing wrong concerning ROSELLI'S activities at the present time. He has never heard any information which would indicate to him that ROSELLI is engaged in gambling or bookmaking activities in the Los Angeles area. He said
