DIARY DATE SET FOR

1. Mr. Vern S. READY, Assistant Dean for the College of Education at the University of Western Ontario, London, Ont; was contacted and interviewed this date with respect to GROSSI. Mr. READY informed that he knew GROSSI but also that he knew him under the name of Jack BOWEN. READY came to be acquainted with GROSSI after the marriage between GROSSI and GROSSI's wife, Patricia. Patricia GROSSI had been a member of READY's teaching staff at the Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute, 239 Frontenac St., Kingston, Ont. READY at this time was the Principal of the above noted institution and resided at R.H. #1, Kingston, Ont. Patricia was a very close friend of the family and often stayed with them at the above address.

2. READY further advised that GROSSI had been introduced to him as Jack BOWEN and when ever they met this is the name that was used. On July 1st, 1964, GROSSI visited READY at their home in Kingston, GROSSI was alone at this time and was driving a Pontiac Grand Prix. This car had a U.S.A. license but READY could not recall from where it was issued or the number. GROSSI was trying to obtain information regarding his wife, Patricia, and was going to try and get things settled between them. GROSSI knew that Patricia always went to the READY family for help when she needed it. READY never saw GROSSI after this visit and shortly afterwards on July 20th, 1964, READY moved from Kingston to London, Ont and is presently residing at 42 Long Bow Road, London, Ont.

3. It was also learned during this interview that GROSSI had visited with the READY family back in October 1964. At this time he was with his wife and was also driving the Pontiac Grand Prix. READY received a phone call from Patricia GROSSI here in London on the evening of 4 OCT 64. READY advised that Patricia was just lonely and wanted to speak with the family, she informed at this time that GROSSI had not been in contact with her and that she had no idea of his present whereabouts.

4. READY informed that GROSSI did not know his address in London but was quite sure that he knew of his move to London and would have no trouble locating him. READY is quite willing to assist the police in locating GROSSI and should he be visited by GROSSI here in London, he will notify this office immediately.
