SUBJECT: CARLOS MARCELLO
AR

DATE: 9/24/68

ReBulet to New Orleans, 7/30/68.

On 8/27/68, a review of the morgue of the Laredo Times, of the articles printed locally in connection with the trial of the subject in Laredo in May 1968, failed to show any statements made by the subject or any of his attorneys concerning investments by the subject in Mexico. It should be noted that the Laredo Times is the only English language daily newspaper printed in Laredo.

On 9/10/68, SA 496-C, a confidential source in Mexico, advised that he read most of the articles printed in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, newspapers concerning the subject and he did not recall that any of them made any mention of any investments in Mexico by the subject. He said that due to his position in Mexico, he had an interest in the subject and especially in any information which might reflect any investments by the subject in Mexico.

On 9/23/68, BARRY BROWNE, former reporter for the Laredo Times, advised that he had written most of the articles for the Laredo Times concerning the subject while the subject was in Laredo, Texas, on trial. He could not recall any articles in any local newspapers mentioning the fact that the subject had any investments in Mexico. Portions of the article in the 5/30/68, issue of La Prensa newspaper were read to him and he stated that about the only truth in the article was that MARCELLO was on trial in Laredo.

Re LEGAT Mexico City letter 7/17/68.

Enclosed for New Orleans and San Antonio are copies of referenced letter which are self-explanatory. This letter requested investigation by the San Antonio Office.

New Orleans should also review its files and contact logical sources for any information indicating Marcello to have investments in Mexico, or any contacts or association with Bruno Pagliai.

It is noted that San Diego may have informants who can furnish information concerning Pagliai, particularly SD 1064-C-TE.

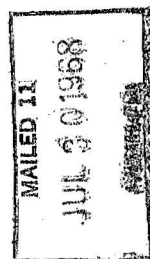

New Orleans should set out appropriate leads for San Diego to contact logical informants for any information indicating association between Marcello and Pagliai, or that Pagliai's interests in Mexico were funded by La Cosa Nostra.

NOTE: LEGAT Mexico City reports an article appeared in the Mexico City Spanish language newspaper, "La Prensa," concerning Marcello's recent trial in Laredo, Texas, for assaulting an FBI Agent. This article quoted Marcello's attorney as stating Marcello had investments in a firm in Mexico. LEGAT advises this firm to be largely controlled by Bruno Pagliai and his associates. Pagliai is a naturalized Mexican citizen of Italian descent, who has had gambling interests in Mexico in the past. He is the husband of actress Merle Oberon and reputedly wealthy and politically influential in Mexico. Although "La Prensa" is considered leftist, and irresponsible, it's believed appropriate inquiry should be made to determine whether Marcello may have interests in Mexico.

As reported, important contacts in the Mexican Government, specifically Attorney RAFAEL HERNANDEZ OCHOA, Assistant Secretary of Government, and JORGE VAZQUEZ ROBLES, Chief, Inspection Service, Mexican Immigration Service, were curious concerning the trial of the subject in Laredo. (X)(u)

They were specifically concerned about newspaper reports indicating that the subject might have crossed into Mexico while in the border area. (X)(u)

It is noted that the Mexican Government maintains a file on the subject as a leading figure in the Mafia or La Cosa Nostra (LCN). They are desirous of excluding such persons from immigrating to Mexico. (X)(u)

[Contacts were specifically concerned about an article appearing in the May 30, 1968, issue of the Mexico City Spanish language newspaper, LA PRENSA. This article was captioned "Laredo Invaded by Bodyguards of the Head of the 'Cosa Nostra.'" The article apparently was written by EDUARDO REYES GAMBOA, correspondent for LA PRENSA in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas.

The article is summarized as follows:

The trial against CARLOS MARCELLO, an American of Italian origin, identified as the principal leader of LCN, was transferred to Laredo, Texas, from New Orleans. The matter has provoked a great commotion on both sides of the border because
