RE: MOVIMIENTO INSURRECCIONAL DE
RECUPERACION REVOLUCIONARIA (MIRR)1 - Sullivan

Reference is made to previous information furnished you concerning captioned anti-Castro organization and to my memorandum dated June 17, 1964, which concerned plan of MIRR to bomb Cuba using airstrip in Bahamas.

On June 23, 1964, a source who has furnished insufficient information to evaluate his reliability advised that Orlando Bosch Avila, head of MIRR, indicated he has $3,000 for another air attack against Cuba which he hopes to carry out possibly over the week end of June 27-28, 1964.

Reportedly, Bosch plans to use a small aircraft to carry bombs and to drop off two men at Marsh Harbour in the Bahama Islands. A two-engine aircraft will leave from the Miami, Florida, area and file a flight plan to Freeport, Bahamas. After checking through Customs, the plane will fly to Treasure Key in Upper Abaco, Bahamas. The aircraft will then depart at about 5:30 p.m. and land at dark at Marsh Harbour where it will rendezvous with the small plane. After loading, the two-engine aircraft will leave at about 2:00 a.m. and proceed to the target which is a sugar mill located near the city of Punta Alegre, which is on the north coast of Camaguey, Cuba.

Bosch expects to be able to procure a pilot and a twin-engine aircraft for this operation which is still in the planning stage. Bosch indicated he was going to send one Luis, full name unknown, to Marsh Harbour this week for orientation purposes. Luis was described as a white male, about 33 years of age who has a short stocky build and who wears a mustache. Reportedly, Luis is a U.S. citizen.
