According to NY T-17, STONE, above, subsequently contacted an unidentified person at [the Cuban United Nations Mission,] New York who inquired if STONE knew anything (S) concerning another invasion of Cuba. The source stated STONE replied there was a conference for out of town newspapermen that date, April 24, 1961, at the United States State Department, Washington, D. C. and perhaps that gave rise to the above rumor. Source stated STONE further replied that he was aware of no other conferences in progress at that time. Source stated SANCHEZ subsequently opined that someone may have become confused and thought the conference related to an immediate intervention by the United States (S)

NY T-18 advised on April 24, 1961, he had learned that JOSE SANCHEZ stated he considered the July 26th Movement in Union City, New Jersey to be very poor, that there had been laxity in Union City, New Jersey and that what was needed was new faces and new blood in the organization. SANCHEZ stated he wanted agitation for more activity in that city. Source advised that SANCHEZ stated that RAFAEL LOPEZ, the leader of the July 26th Movement in Union City, New Jersey, was not too well liked by the members and the source received the impression that LUIS MATA of Union City, New Jersey, was in SANCHEZ's favor. (u) N.J., D.C.

Source also advised he had learned that in order to gain access to July 26th Movement headquarters in New York, it is necessary to knock three times on the door and state the passwords in Spanish, "Fatherland or death". (u)

NY T-16 advised on April 24, 1961, he had learned JOSE SANCHEZ had numerous contacts with unidentified men and woman who inquired if there were any pending picket plans or demonstrations. SANCHEZ replied to such inquiries that there were no plans at present for any pickets or (u)
