La Cosa Nostra
Anti-Racketeering - Conspiracy

On April 4, 1967, Lieutenant Detective Robert J. Le Blanc and Detective Nick Guerra, Surete Montreal, Montreal Police, Canada, visited the New York, New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). They stated that they had been referred to this office by United States Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau, Southern District of New York, whom they had visited the previous day.

Lieutenant Detective Le Blanc stated that the Montreal Police have territorial jurisdiction over "Expo '67". Lieutenant Detective Le Blanc requested that the Montreal Police be directly advised by the FBI when any information is received indicating that American hoodlums are to travel to Montreal during the course of "Expo '67".

Lieutenant Detective Le Blanc also stated that he is in charge of a new and permanent criminal intelligence program being set up by the Montreal Police. He requested that his Department be furnished pertinent intelligence information on La Cosa Nostra members living or operating in the Montreal area on a continuing basis.

Lieutenant Detective Le Blanc advised that he was aware that information concerning American hoodlums visiting or who are active in Canada is furnished to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Lieutenant Detective Le Blanc stated that his Department is experiencing undue delay in receiving such information from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and requested that such information be furnished directly to his Department.

The New York, New York Office of the FBI made no commitments during this meeting with Lieutenant Detective Le Blanc and Detective Guerra.
