WEEKLY SUMMARY

MM 822-C advised that MAX EDER (MM 92-467) appears to have acquired more control over activities at the Fontainebleau Hotel, evidenced by the fact that executives from all departments of the hotel have been consulting more and more with EDER on policy, etc. EDER now has JOE SMITH, an employee of the baggage room of the Fontainebleau Hotel, handling all of the employees' bets, which SMITH delivers, with the money to BEN SHERMAN, a bookmaker for EDER. EDER also assigned BEN SHERMAN to operate in the cabana of the hotel, rather than the card room, as EDER is attempting to avoid paying the law enforcement agencies. Reportedly, EDER then can report that there has been no activity in the card room and hence there is no need to make any payoff.

MM 814-C reported that MIKE MC LANEY (MM 92-464) had owed the Fontainebleau Hotel between $8,000 and $9,000 for three or four years, and recently paid it. He also reported that MC LANEY acquired the transportation desk at the Fontainebleau Hotel for $10,000 a year. He advised in addition that although MC LANEY and BEN NOVACK, operator of the hotel, have been good friends for years, they are at odds at present because the transportation desk, in NOVACK's opinion, has been doing very poorly.
