PHIL PETERS, aka.
AK

Due to the sensitive nature of this source, careful consideration should be given disseminating this information. If disseminated, it should be appropriately paraphrased to fully conceal the identity of the source.

DE 988-C* advised on August 23, 1963, he overheard a conversation between MARTY THOMAS and PHIL PETERS, who had a discussion as to why the dice game in Flint would not go. They stated they have the mayor. MARTY then referred to CHARLES MORAYNE as stupid and PETERS then stated that they diplomatically took care of CHARLES MORAYNE for not coming to them before he decided to open a dice game. Both agreed that you can do nothing until you go to them. PETERS added that the first day CHARLES got them at the Kalamazoo, he knew that they were the kings.

PHIL then stated PETE CORRADO would have let them run and after using several obscene words made the statement that "TONY" ERILLI is their boss; he is the coppechial (ph) of that outfit but "TONY JACK" has him in his back pocket. He then said whatever "TONY JACK" throws him that is his. You know if he says it should be like this, go ahead.

MARTY stated 20 years ago you have to be a steel pigeon. You've still got to be a steel pigeon to get ahead. PETERS stated that they tell you you've got to do this or that and you get no peace and you can't get anywhere. On the other hand, who wants to die. You can't argue with the union guys. They just tell you.

PETERS then refers to "his", apparently GIACALONE as a "tough guy". He said that if you run into one of them since they are cream and sugar. PETERS added that TONY can't get in his car. "I'd like to shoot them..Obscene.. When they get together they get strength.
