and some papers from the bank concerning other checks to GARCIA and one Jose CARILLO Garcia. GARCIA and CARILLO were Cuban diplomats in Honduras until diplomatic relations were suspended in April 1961.

2. A document dated 5 October 1962 included a list of Cuban personnel assigned to the Cuban Embassy in Santiago, Chile. Alfredo GARCIA Almeyda was included on the list as Second Secretary, his date and place of birth were given as 1933 in Cuba and his passport number was listed as Diplomatic 413/62.
3. In a report dated 21 December 1962 from a usually reliable source, it was stated that the personal effects of Alfredo GARCIA Almeyda, Second Secretary of the Cuban Embassy in Chile and a suspected Cuban G-2 official, were aboard the Swedish ship, Birgit Bengt Sjosten, when it sailed from Chile to Cuba on 14 December 1962.
4. Early in the morning on 25 March 1963 a local Santiago radio broadcast announced that the Cuban Second Secretary, Alfredo GARCIA Almeyda, had been declared persona non grata by the Chilean government for misrepresenting himself to Chilean authorities while trying to reach the site of a plane crash in Peru. This information was later confirmed by the Chilean Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs who said that GARCIA told the governor of Arica that he (GARCIA) was a Chilean journalist and that he had forgotten his identification documents. GARCIA was accompanied by the Chilean Communist Deputy, Luis VALENTE Rossi, who vouched for GARCIA's story. VALENTE tried to convince the Peruvian Border Authorities that he was a Brazilian journalist. The two were denied entry into Peru and thus did not reach the site. This information was taken from a document dated 25 March 1963.
5. In another Document dated 25 March 1963 it was reported that Alfredo GARCIA Almeyda, Second Secretary of the Cuban Embassy in Santiago, would leave by plane, Canadian Pacific, on 27 March 1963 for Mexico.

The first occasion was on 19 March 1963 when GARCIA traveled to Tacna, Peru, using the alias, Moises GOMEZ Paredes. GARCIA was accompanied by a Chilean Communist Party Deputy from Arica.
