DETAILS:

AT LAREDO, TEXAS.

MOHRENSCHILDT and woman companion registered at the Plaza Hotel in Laredo at 6:12 P.M., June 3, 1941, as G. VON MOHRENSCHILDT, 109 E. 73 Street, New York City and Mrs. L. PARDO LARIN, Tiper # 6, Mexico, D. F.. They were assigned to rooms 519 and 518 respectively.

On June 4, 1941 it was learned from Informant A that a telephone call had been made from room 519 to telephone # 1749, which is the listing of the American Consulate in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, Mexico and from room 518 to telephone # 490, which is the listing of the residence of LOUIS NITISHIN, 1814 Rosario Street. It is believed that the latter number actually called was # 590, which is the listing of the Mexican Consulate in Laredo as it was subsequently ascertained that subject had contacted the Mexican Consul in Laredo. It was also learned from Informant A that Mrs. LARIN, about 1:00 P.M., June 4, sent a telegram to ALPHONSO CASTRO, Lexington Hotel, New York City advising that her address was the Plaza Hotel, that she was going to Mexico the next day, was very happy and requesting him to call her.

On the morning of June 4, MOHRENSCHILDT contacted A. L. AHRENS, U. S. Immigration Inspector, PO bldg., in Laredo and requested the name of the U. S. Immigration Inspector in Charge at Corpus Christi. He did not state why he wanted this name other than to mention that he wanted to write him a letter. Mr. AHRENS informed that he received a letter from ALFRED R. PERKINS, U. S. Immigration Inspector, Corpus Christi, dated June 3, advising that on June 2, 1941 he and RUSSELL BROWN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General went to Port Aransas, Texas, to investigate MOHRENSCHILDT who had been reported taking photographs of jetties and the ship channel at that place. This investigation was based upon information furnished by BILL ELLIS, Justice of the Peace at Port Aransas and also operator of the Tarpon Inn at that aplace. ELLIS informed them that MOHRENSCHILDT and Mrs. LARIN were occupying the same room at the Inn as man and wife.
