

DISPATCH		CLASSIFICATION SECRET		DISPATCH SYMBOL AND NO. 22711756
TO 1270	Chief, EE Chief, KUSODA	SEC. CL.	ORIGIN	CONTROL NO. 1270-174
DATE OF DOC. 12/1/60	DATE REC'D 12/20	DATE OUT	SUSPENSE DATE	CROSS REFERENCE OR POINT OF FILING
FROM [27]	TO FROM SUBJ.			ROUTING	DATE SENT
SUBJECT Operational/CART/C Possible Knowledge of CATHINK
ACTION REQUIRED None. For your info
REFERENCE(S) A. [20-4] 5000, 9 A B. [20-4] 5207, 19 C. [20-4] 5531, 2 S D. [20-4] 5336, 10
COURIER NO.	ANSWERED	NO REPLY	4

CIA HISTORICAL REVIEW PROGRAM
RELEASE AS SANITIZED

1998

1. Paragraph one of reference C should be modified to show that SLOBODA knew John T. Ossenbrink by true name as early as March 1960, at which time Ossenbrink dealt with SLOBODA officially in the procuring of East German city plans and other materials for CATHINK. Since occupying the CATHINK offices in late May of 1960, Ossenbrink saw SLOBODA about three times in the latter's office, each of which visits concerned the acquisition of basic intelligence materials (e.g., East German telephone books, city plans, etc.). Ossenbrink did not indicate to SLOBODA the reason for Ossenbrink's request for these materials, but SLOBODA did know Ossenbrink's phone extension at Camp King, since Ossenbrink occasionally left word with SLOBODA for SLOBODA's superior, Mr. Len Meller, Chief of Publications Procurement Section, to phone Ossenbrink for official purposes.

2. Ossenbrink has questioned all KUBARK CATHINK staff members on their knowledge of SLOBODA, making use of a photograph of SLOBODA for this purpose. None had any personal contact with him, however, and felt that they had seen him at the Camp King coffee bar. It should be noted that many US Army military personnel at Camp King have official knowledge of the official and unofficial name of CATHINK (see attachment under separate cover), and that the KUBARK CATHINK staff members are employees of [08] assigned to Camp King for work in CATHINK. The name and mission of CATHINK is classified presently CONFIDENTIAL - NOFORN, which means that the official name and mission of CATHINK is widely known among other US Army offices at Camp King, which also had frequent occasion to deal with SLOBODA's former office. Moreover, in conversing with US Army personnel at the Camp King coffee bar, it is conceivable that SLOBODA learned the true names of all KUBARK CATHINK personnel without their knowledge.

3. In summary, it appears that SLOBODA could have learned the following about CATHINK during the period March-August 1960:

a. Official and unofficial name and mission of CATHINK. (Official and unofficial name of CATHINK forwarded as Identities A. and B. respectively under separate cover attachment)

b. True name of KUBARK and CATHINK staff members

DISPATCH

TO Chief, EE
INFO Chief, KUSODA

27 15-8		320-120-20
FROM	Chief of Station, Germany	DATE	10 October 1960
SUBJECT	Operational/CART/CATHINK Possible Knowledge of Wladimar SLOBODA of CATHINK	RE "433" (CHECK "X" ONE)
ACTION REQUIRED None. For your information only		MARKED FOR INDEXING
		XX NO INDEXING REQUIRED
		INDEXING CAN BE JUDGED BY QUALIFIED HQ. DESK ONLY

REFERENCE(S)

- A. ²⁰⁻⁴FRAN 5000, 9 August 1960
- B. ²⁰⁻⁴FRAN 5207, 19 August 1960
- C. ²⁰⁻⁴FRAN 5531, 2 September 1960
- D. ²⁰⁻⁴FRAN 6336, 10 October 1960 to IB 110-25184

1. Paragraph one of reference C should be modified to show that SLOBODA knew John T. Ossenbrink by true name as early as March 1960, at which time Ossenbrink dealt with SLOBODA officially in the procuring of East German city plans and other materials for CATHINK. Since occupying the CATHINK offices in late May of 1960, Ossenbrink saw SLOBODA about three times in the latter's office, each of which visits concerned the acquisition of basic intelligence materials (e.g., East German telephone books, city plans, etc.). Ossenbrink did not indicate to SLOBODA the reason for Ossenbrink's request for these materials, but SLOBODA did know Ossenbrink's phone extension at Camp King, since Ossenbrink occasionally left word with SLOBODA for SLOBODA's superior, Mr. Len Meller, Chief of Publications Procurement Section, to phone Ossenbrink for official purposes.

2. Ossenbrink has questioned all KUBARK CATHINK staff members on their knowledge of SLOBODA, making use of a photograph of SLOBODA for this purpose. None had any personal contact with him; however, all felt that they had seen him at the Camp King coffee bar. It should be noted that many US Army military personnel at Camp King have official knowledge of the official and unofficial name of CATHINK (see attachment under separate cover), and that the KUBARK CATHINK staff members are employees of ²⁰⁻⁴DAD/Germany assigned to Camp King for work in CATHINK. The name and mission of CATHINK is classified presently CONFIDENTIAL - NOFORN, which means that the official name and mission of CATHINK is widely known among other US Army offices at Camp King, which also had frequent occasion to deal with SLOBODA's former office. Moreover, in conversing with US Army personnel at the Camp King coffee bar, it is conceivable that SLOBODA learned the true names of all KUBARK CATHINK personnel without their knowledge.

3. In summary, it appears that SLOBODA could have learned the following about CATHINK during the period March-August 1960 -

- a. Official and unofficial name and mission of CATHINK. (Official and unofficial name of CATHINK forwarded as Identities A. and B. respectively under separate cover attachment)

8/20

- 20
- A. [FRAN] 5000, 9 August 1960
 B. [FRAN] 5207, 19 August 1960
 C. [FRAN] 5531, 2 September 1960
 D. [FRAN] 6336, 10 October 1960 to IB III-25184

1. Paragraph one of reference C should be modified to show that SLOBODA knew John T. Ossenbrink by true name as early as March 1960, at which time Ossenbrink dealt with SLOBODA officially in the procuring of East German city plans and other materials for CATHINK. Since occupying the CATHINK offices in late May of 1960, Ossenbrink saw SLOBODA about three times in the latter's office, each of which visits concerned the acquisition of basic Intelligence materials (e.g., East German telephone books, city plans, etc.). Ossenbrink did not indicate to SLOBODA the reason for Ossenbrink's request for these materials, but SLOBODA did know Ossenbrink's phone extension at Camp King, since Ossenbrink occasionally left word with SLOBODA for SLOBODA's superior, Mr. Len Meller, Chief of Publications Procurement Section, to phone Ossenbrink for official purposes.

2. Ossenbrink has questioned all KUBARK CATHINK staff members on their knowledge of SLOBODA, making use of a photograph of SLOBODA for this purpose. None had any personal contact with him; however, all felt that they had seen him at the Camp King coffee bar. It should be noted that many US Army military personnel at Camp King have official knowledge of the official and unofficial name of CATHINK (see attachment under separate cover), and that the KUBARK CATHINK staff members are employees of [DAD/Germany] assigned to Camp King for work in CATHINK. The name and mission of CATHINK is classified presently CONFIDENTIAL - NOFORN, which means that the official name and mission of CATHINK is widely known among other US Army offices at Camp King, which also had frequent occasion to deal with SLOBODA's former office. Moreover, in conversing with US Army personnel at the Camp King coffee bar, it is conceivable that SLOBODA learned the true names of all KUBARK CATHINK personnel without their knowledge.

3. In summary, it appears that SLOBODA could have learned the following about CATHINK during the period March-August 1960 -

a. Official and unofficial name and mission of CATHINK. (Official and unofficial name of CATHINK forwarded as Identities A. and B. respectively under separate cover attachment)

b. True name of KUBARK and CATHINK staff members, including the fact that they are assigned to Camp King by [DAD/Germany].

4-00000
CONTINUATION
DISPATCH

CLASSIFICATION

SECRET

DISPATCH SYMBOL AND NO.

32
[ECOA] 11756

4. The delay in reporting this matter was due to the fact that Ossenbrink was on home leave when the SLOBODA defection took place.

J. Ossenbrink

John T. OSSENBRINK

Lester S. Redmiles
Approved:

Lester S. REDMILES

Attachment:

Official and Unofficial names CATRINE

Distribution:

1 - OS w/att U.S.C.

~~2 - WSCOA w/att U.S.C.~~

03
[GEORGE W.
FINNEY]

TO: KUSODA

SEPARATE COVER ATTACH. TO ²²[EGOA] 11756, 10 Oct 60

SE

Identity A. Collection Division, ~~Collection and~~
Battalion, 513th Military Intelligence Group.

Identity B. ¹⁰["EGIS Center"]

S E C R E T

2/90

S E C R E T

SEPARATE COVER ATTACHMENT TO ²²EGOA-11756

Identity A. Collection Division, Collection and Dissemination
Battalion, 513th Military Intelligence Group.

Identity B. ¹⁰["EGIS Center"]

S E C R E T

2/80